Plants Say Impossible To Conform To Air Code

Impression That Law Is Compatible With State Called 'False'

Granite City's new air pollution control ordinance, approved July 3 by the city council, makes it impossible for most heavy metal industries to comply, representatives of the Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities said yesterday.

As a result, William Hoelscher, executive-secretary of the association said, the ordinance will need to be reconsidered by city officials or a number of industries will be forced into an "uncooperative position" of relying upon an illinois legal ruling which provides that state control regulations prevail in the event of conflict between local and state regulations.

The industry stand followed a meeting of the Granite City Air Pollution Control board Monday night at which Hoelscher and Randall Robertson, attorney for the manufacturers' association, presented statements of objection to the new ordinance.

They suggested reconsideration of the bill, despite the fact that the ordinance was approved by a majority of the council, signed by Mayor Donald Partney and is given legal publication in today's issue of the Press-Record.

Object to Method

Hoelscher said that in addition to objecting to certain ordinance amendments "which make it economically impossible for some industries to abide by the standards," the association also objected strenuously to the manner in which the amendments were authored and the way in which they were "pushed" through the city council "when many of the aldermen had no opportunity to know what they were approving."

He charged the amendments creating the new air pollution control ordinance were "presented" to the council and not "recommended" by the Air Polution Control Board as a whole.

He said the impression given to city aldermen that the amendments made Granite City's ordinance compatible with state regulations is "entirely false."

Hoelscher said the amendments approved by the council apply a weight process capable of pollutant standards to "all" industries, while the Illinois state regulation applies the table to all industries except the heavy metals industries, for which specific emission standards are established for each of the various types.

"Consequently," Hoelscher said, "the Granite City ordinance is not compatible with the state regulations."

Cites State Ruling

He pointed out that Illinois Attorney General William Clark recently ruled, when requested for a legal opinion by state air pollution control officials, that in the event of a conflict between state and local boards, the state regulations would prevail.

The ruling also set out that a conflict exists when local regula-

Harris Leaves School Board; Two Vacancies to Be Filled

William L. Harris, 3136 Princeton drive, a member of the Granite City board of education since July 1966, resigned from the board Monday night.

There are now two vacancies on the seven-member board, whose holdover members are President Monroe Worthen, Secretary E. W. Walton, Treasurer George Moore sr., Royce Timmons and Carl Macios. The two positions may be filled by appointment July 26.

The other vacancy developed effective June 30 with the resignation of Ronald Dillard, who left the board in order to resume teaching in the school district.

Harris, whose resignation took effect immediately and was submitted at the start of Monday's meeting, cited other duties which are leaving him insufficient time to devote to the position.

Elected in April

Appointed to the board a year ago, he was elected to a one-year unexpired term in April 1967.

Of the two current vacancies, both urban positions on the board, the Harris position will be on the ballot for a full-three-year term in April 1968 (The Moore and Timmons terms also end in 1968), and the Dillard post will be decided for a one-year period.

Harris, president of Wagner Seven-Up Bottling Co., formerly served as YMCA youth secretary and assistant personnel supervisor and is the present YMCA board president. He also heads the Illinois Seven-Up Developers Association.

A member of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church and its vestry, he has a bachelor degree from St. Louis University and did graduate study at Washington University, George Williams College and Springfield College.

Text of Letter

In his letter of resignation, he said, "I regret that I find it necessary to resign as a member of the board of Community Unit District Nine because of the press of personal obligations which make it impossible for me to devote the necessary amount of time to properly discharge the duties of a school board member.

"The fact that such personal obligations would arise was not known to me at the time I sought election to the board.

"It is possible in the future that I can serve in some other public capacity which does not make such a great demand on time.

"I do not believe that the best interest of the school board and the school district can be served with the amount of time I presently have to devote to school board activities.

"The experience I have gained during my tenure has been most rewarding and pleasant.

Says Board Dedicated

"I have never served with any group that is more dedicated and unselfish in their desire to do that which is best for our school district. If I can ever be of any assistance, please feel free to call on me."

President Worthen commented that Harris had made "a definite, positive contribution to the effectiveness of the board and district in the year he has been on th board." Addressing Harris, he added, "We all hate to see you leave."

Harris said, "It's been my pleasure." On Timmons' motion,

Madison Budget Increased $10,129

$485,636 Total Due to Bridge Fund Loss; No Pay Hikes Provided

The Madison city council Tuesday night adopted a budget totaling $485,636 for the 1967-68 fiscal year starting May 1, an increase of $10,129 over that of the year before.

There were no salary increases for full-time city employees, who received $50-per-month hike last year.

And the budget was kept down further with elimination of payment of the bonds and interest fund, which last year totaled $17,297. The bonds have been retired.

Loss of the annual $100,000 city income from Chain of Rocks Bridge funds cost the city $15,200 in payment of half of the salaries of four city officials and the ten aldermen. in previous years, income from bridge operations paid half of the salaries of officials and the other half was paid from general revenue.

Aldermanic Increases

The appropriation for salaries of the aldermen was increased by $3000 to $10,500, as the city council earlier took advantage of new state legislation to increase compensation of aldermen to $50 per meeting. Half of the council will not receive the raise until starting new terms in 1969.

With installation of more street and alley lights, the street budget was upped $2000 to $12,000. The police pension budget went up by $5000 to $30,000.

Provisions were made for purchase of a new dump truck at $3800, a new item; hospital and health insurance, increased by $4100 to $8000; and legal department salaries and expenses, increased by $3680 to $9025.

Provision for purchases of buildings was cut by $4000 to $10,000.

Comparative Summary

A summary of the total amounts appropriated, giving this year's figures first and then the difference from last year, follows:

General corporate purposes fund, $393,923, up $22,816; public benefits fund, $3400, same; garbage fund, $20,687, same; public

Agreement Avoids Painter Strike in Area

A possible strike of more than 600 union painters in a 12-county area, including the Quad-Cities and Madison county, was averted early yesterday morning in a settlement of contract issues reached in a negotiating session at the Granite City Painters' Hall.

A strike deadline had been set for midnight last night, according to Gilbert Kannenberg of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, St. Louis, who assisted in settling the issues between a recently established district council of union painters and a newly formed association of painting contractors.

Kannenberg said an agreement was reached between both sides shortly after midnight Wednesday morning and marks the initial contract between the painters, as a 12-county council, and the contractors as an organized group.

In the past, the 13 union locals in the 12-county area negotiated separate contracts on their individual behalf with the contractors for which they worked.

Negotiation of a new contract, which is for a one-year period, has been underway since last April, when most old contracts expired, Kannenberg said.

James Helfrich, business agent of Local 85 at Belleville and a member of the union district council negotiating team, said the painters formed the district council a year ago to establish a uniform contract.

He pointed out that new wage rates vary for different locals, depending upon location and area, but that the agreement reached on working conditions is uniform throughout the district.

Both Kannenberg and Helfrich said details of the agreement cannot be announced at this time since terms of the settlement must be ratified by the various locals of the district council, and by contractor members of the association.

The area covered by the new union district council includes Madison, St. Clair, Monroe, Bond, Montgomery, Jersey, Calhoun, Washington, Clinton, Green and Pike counties.

From 600 to 700 painters are members of locals within the area, Helfrich said.

The newly formed contractors' group is known as the Lewis and Clark Chapter of the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America.

Simon Backed by County Demos for Race With Dirksen

With the 1968 election campaign nearly a year away, the Madison county Democratic organization already has taken steps to back State Senator Paul Simon of Troy in a bid for the candidacy of U. S. senator, the Press-Record learned today.

The executive board of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, meeting at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn Monday night, voted to contribute $2000 to Simon's campaign fund. County officials, including those whose terms of office expire next year, also attended the meeting of the 28-man executive board.

Walter "Buck" Simmons, chairman of the county central committee, said Simon's candidacy will depend upon the endorsement of the Illinois State Democratic Committee which, Simmons said, is not likely to select a U. S. senatorial candidate until early next year.

Simon Touring Europe

A report from some political sources that Simon has been assured the candidacy by upstate Democrats headed by Mayor Daley of Chicago, contingent upon Simon providing a $25,000 fund for the state campaign, was denied by Simmons. Sen. Simon is now in Europe.

As a candidate for U. S. senator during the 1968 campaign, Simon would oppose veteran Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Republican.

Simon was elected to his present five-year term in 1966.

The executive board session also included discussion of plans for the central committee's annual "champagne dinner," a $25-a-plate affair, to be held in October. The event was held for the first time prior to the last election campaign and hereafter will be an annual affair, Simmons said.

Proceeds from the dinner will go into a general campaign fund for all county, district and state candidates in this area, the committee chairman said.

The $2000 contribution approved by the committee Monday night, however, specifically is for Simon's campaign fund, he pointed out.

No Assurance Received

In addition to state representative and congressional elections in 1968, Madison county residents also will elect a clerk of the circuit court, state's attorney, coroner, county auditor and recorder of deeds. Five trustees of the East Side Levee & Sanitary district also will be elected.

Democrats attending the Monday night session also made

A resident here since 1956, the Marine attended local schools prior to entering military service in June 1966. He had served in Vietnam since March with the Ninth Marine Division.

His remains have been brought to a local funeral home. Funeral arrengements are given in today's obituary column.

Venice Grocery Store Looted

$900 Cigaret Stock Taken, Stolen Truck Used; 13 Other Thefts

Burglars who apparently hit in the store until after it was closed looted the Tri-City Grocery in Venice of its entire stock of cigarets Tuesday night or early yesterday morning and hauled them away in a stolen truck.

There were 13 other Quad-City theft cases this week.

Police said store officials told them the loss will run at least $900. Only other items reported taken were several cartons of powder puffs.

The burglars "broke out" of the store rather than breaking into it, officers said. The loot was removed to the alley through a rear door, from which a lock and hasp had been pried loose on the inside.

The burglary was reported to Venice police shortly after 7 a.m. yesterday by Gary Long of Madison, assistant manager of the store. Forty minutes earlier, Michael Leatherman sr., 1232 Third street, Venice, had reported the theft of his 1963 model panel truck from his home during the night.

The truck, Leatherman said, was loaded with tools.

Police Recover Tools

While investigating the burglary, police found the tools from Leatherman's truck piled behind a house at 424 Broadway, next door to the Tri-City Grocery building, where they apparently had been unloaded to make room for the large quantity of cigarets taken from the store.

While inspecting the building, police also found a hole had been chopped in the roof of the grocery building, but they said it apparently had been made some time ago.

Police said the hole did not allow entry into the building. Officers theorized the hole had been cut previously by burglars who failed to gain entry.

A broken ax handle was found on the roof of the building and a single-edge blade that went with the handle was found in the yard of the house next door.

Service Station Burglary

A patrolman discovered a break-in at Pete's service station, 1200 Edwardsville road, at 3:05 a.m. Wednesday. The lower panel of a front overhead door was broken. It was not determined whether anything was missing.

After someone reported hearing breaking glass, police found that the Fina service station, 21st street and Niedringhaus avenue, had been burglarized at 4:15 a.m. Wednesday.

A cigaret machine was broken into, but it was not known what was taken. Entry was gained by breaking glass in a rear overhead door.

Thomas Candler, 2507 Denver street, reported theft of the rear end mechanism of an auto at 7:20 last night. It was taken from his garage after the garage lock was sawed off.

Paul Winder, 2248 Lee street, reprted at 6:20 p.m. Tuesday that tools valued at $200 were stolen from an old auto in his back yard after July 5.

A .38-caliber automatic and a lady's white gold watch were stolen from the home of Peggy Forrest, 3108 Kirkpatrick Homes, after July 1, she reported Monday.

Youngsters Chased

George Vincent, 3002 East 23rd street, reported at 11:40 p.m. Monday that he found three youngsters trying to open a rear window of his home and chased them three blocks along East 23rd street before they got away.

He said they had removed screens from the front and rear windows. He was unable to obtain descriptions.

William Albers, 3119 Yale drive, reported at 2:35 p.m. Monday that someone had taken his daughter's light blue purse containing her eyeglasses at Granite City high school July 5.

William Ritchie, Decatur, reported at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday that prescription sun glasses were stolen from him July 4 at 25th street and the railroad tracks.

14 Injured in 18 Traffic Accidents Here This Week

Fourteen persons were injured in a total of 18 traffic accidents on Quad-City area streets and highways since Monday. Included were a motorcyclist, a boy on a bicycle and another boy who ran into the side of an auto.

Arthur Billick, 14, of 34 Grenzer Homes, Madison, complained of pains after the rear of his bicycle was struck by an auto driven by Sam Orr, 2063 Troy avenue, Madison, at 3:40 p.m. Tuesday on Route Three between Nameoki drive and West Pontoon road. Police said the boy cut in front of the auto on the highway.

Michael Hudson, seven, son of Mrs. Vester Buckles of 81 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, suffered a serious left arm injury at 7:15 p.m. Monday when he ran into the side of a moving auto in front of his home, according to a report to Venice police.

The boy was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after emergency treatment. Police said he ran from between two cars parked on Circle drive into a car driven by Langford Cunningham, 35, St. Louis.

Clyde D. Norris, 19, of 3268 Edgewood avenue was injured when a motorcycle he was operating crashed into the side of an auto driven by George Reale, St. Louis, at the intersection of Route Three and Bypass 66 at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Norris was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with abrasions and lacerations to the knees and other abrasions. State police said the auto had observed a stop sign and had entered the intersection when the crash occurred.

Four Persons Injured

Four persons were injured when an auto driven by Havrena Carpenter, Dallas, Tex., was struck in the left side by another car driven by Lacy M. Arms, 65, of 210 Madison avenue, Madison, Monday at West 22nd street and Missouri avenue.

Taken to the Granite City Army Depot dispensary for treatment were Mrs. William Carpenter, John Carpenter, 14, and Debbie Carpenter, 12, all of 4624 Maryville road. Arms suffered minor injuries.

The driver of the Carpenter auto said she failed to see a stop sign. She was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way with a traffic control present.

Bernard S. Miller jr., 41, of 1618 Lindell blvd., escaped serious injury when his auto rolled down an embankment Monday on Route 111 north of Mitchell. He was treated at 1 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Hospital for contusions and abrasions and was released.

Miller, a pharmacist who was enroute to work, said he was forced to apply the brakes because of a slowly moving auto in front while coming down an overpass, but his car skidded, hit curbing and then rolled.

Two persons were injured when an auto driven by Linda Sexton, 20, of Troy, struck the rear of a car driven by Lance Lacy, 45, Penneville, Mich., at 3:25 a.m. Wednesday on Interstate 270 at Route Three, Mitchell. State police said the Lacy auto changed lanes.

Miss Sexton was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with pains in the head and upper back. The

Madison Raises Lease Charge, Blocks Landfill

Proposed Operators Studying Legal Steps; City Asks $8000 Month

Madison Mayor Stephen Maeras and the city council set an asking price of $8000 per month for the lease of a tract of Chain of Rocks Bridge property in a controversial landfill issue during a council meeting Tuesday night.

They turned down an offer of $2000 per year plus free landfill privileges by the city, tendered by Leo Abel and William Miller, who have obtained a permit for the operation and, Abel says, were promised a lease.

The mayor based his terms on a letter from a Madison resident in last week's Press-Record Forum column suggesting that Abel and Miller would do $3000 worth of business a day.

Abel and Miller, who attended the meeting, said that the amount is "fantastic," that landfills in the whole area would not do business of $3000 per day, and that they were victims of circumstances.

"Tried and Hung"

Mayor Maeras opened the stormy discussion by declaring that "the press has tried and hung us without a jury on the landfill operation, and we haven't done anything about a landfill yet."

He was critical of the letter and of an article on a public meeting held in Mitchell last Thursday night, but he remarked on the $3000 daily business "that the Press-Record used as the lie." The letter he referred to was signed by a Madison resident, who said in the letter that his estimate was based on "reports."

The mayor said that at some time ago Abel and Miller offered to lease some land adjacent to the bridge for a sanitary landfill.

"I told them we would consider a lease if they could get a permit. A permit was issued and a tentative lease was drawn by their attorney. But we have never taken action on it."

Abel this week displayed a photostatic copy of what he said was a June 14 letter on city stationery, signed by the mayor, promising that the city council would approve a lease. He said this was used in obtaining a permit from Madison county officials June 19.

Keep Public Informed

The mayor said it was his policy to keep the press and the public informed on all city matters, but Tuesday was the first time the landfill operation was introduced on the council floor.

He said that assuming the information in the published letter is correct, Abel and Miller would have a $936,000 annual business.

Maeras said the city should strive to get 10% on the lease, the same amount it is attempting to obtain in the lease of its industrial park property.

The two want 62.7 acres of about 120 acres available east of the levee, the mayor said, adding that property west of the levee is subject to periodic flooding and could not be used for landfill purposes.

The mayor was critical of Chouteau township objectors, noting that none attended the Madison city council meeting to voice their opinions.

Farmers Happy

He said that only one resident-farmer resided within any proximity of the proposed landfill site, and that this family personally objected. But when they were shown that the landfill would be 1000 feet or more away from their property, they were happy, he added.

"As we are trying to fulfill our obligations, we are convicted," Mayor Maeras complained. "If we are to be disgraced for doing our duty to our people, I hope it comes out in the hearings."

He said the city council supports the administration in obtaining better dumping grounds and fulfilling obligations to the people. He also noted that the city-owned ground surrounds a landfill operated by the Chouteau Island Landfill Co.

Two May Sue

Before the council took action, Abel and Miller said that if they are prevented from operating, they may be forced to sue the city and others involved.

They said they have been

Draft Exam Quota For Quad-Cities Shows Increase

A sharp increase in the number of Quad-City and Madison county selective service registrants ordered to take pre-induction examinations in August was reported yesterday by the Madison County Selective Service board in Edwardsville.

New August draft calls and examination quotas were received as a group of 18 Quad-City draftees prepared to leave for service tomorrow. The July group is the largest monthly quota this year. Last month, 13 Quad-Cityans were inducted.

The Edwardsville board said the August draft quota for the Quad-City area also is 18, but that a total of 60 registrants will take pre-induction exams on Aug. 8. The inductees are to report for service Aug. 18.

For the Alton area, the August draft quota is 16 men to report for duty Aug. 4, and a total of 114 to take pre-induction physicals. Of these, 56 are to be examined Aug. 11 and 60 on Aug. 17.

The Edwardsville board quota is 11 to be drafted on Aug. 4, with 60 to report for exams Aug. 8 and 56 to report for exams on Aug. 25.

At Springfield, a September draft call of 1330 men was announced and officials said it was the second highest call of the year. The selective service office said it would include some 19-year-old men.

The August call, state officials said, is the highest this year, with a total of 9100 called for physicals.

17 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC DEATH

Madison Boosts City Sales, Use Tax by a Quarter Cent

The Madison city council boosted its city sales and use tax rate from a half-cent to three-quarters of a cent, effective Aug. 1, at its meeting Tuesday night.

The move was a follow-up to recent state legislation which provided a boost of a cent in the over-all sales and use tax, which will reach a total of five cents. Some retailers already have started to collect the full amount, Mayor Stephen Maeras noted.

The city has been collecting about $40,000 per year in sales taxes, and the increase should result in an additional $20,000, the mayor noted. It will help alleviate a loss in the general corporate tax fund when tax rate court rulings deprived the city of $30,000 to $40,000 per year.

Mayor Maeras said he does not necessarily agree with state action in raising the sales tax rate "as it affects a lot of essentials of life." He added, however, that "we may as well ask the state to give us our share."

Bridge Needs Painting

The consulting engineering firm of Hardesty & Hanover of New York advised the council that the Chain of Rocks Bridge is badly in need of painting, and estimated the cost at $136,000.

The mayor recommended that no immediate action be taken, as "in two weeks or so I hope to hear something of a definite nature in connection with use of the bridge."

The engineers, who have been inspecting the bridge twice a year, reported that the span remains in generally good condition and should require little maintenance for years to come.

The firm has been receiving $4000 per year plus expenses for two inspections a year, and the mayor said he is arranging to cut costs by having only one inspection a year because of the greatly reduced use of the structure, which is toll-free.

He estimated that there are 1200 to 1400 crossings a day over the bridge, consisting mostly of automobiles.

Award Contract

The council awarded a contract to the General Contracting Co. to install curbs and gutters and a bituminous mix on Alton avenue from 12th to Elizabeth streets

Wounded Marine Phones; On Way to Great Lakes Hospital

A trans-Pacific telephone call at 6 a.m. Tuesday (local time) reassured the anxious family of a wounded Marine that he is in good hands and enroute home.

Marine Pfc. Billy Joe Thomason, 19, Madison, related in a call from the Philippine Islands, "I am doing pretty good, considering everything, and am on my way to the Great Lakes Naval Hospital near Chicago."

He added that he was encased in a cast from his left foot to thigh and had injuries to his right hand and forehead. "But I'm all right, so don't worry," he said.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomason, 415a Madison avenue, Madison, the serviceman sustained fragmentation wounds to his right index finger and hand, left leg and forehead from a mortar shell which exploded in his unit's defensive position on July 4.

Pfc. Thomason was injured in the vicinity of Quang Tri, Vietnam, the same general area where Marine Pfc. Joe C. Leutennegger, 20, Granite City, was killed in action July 2.

A telegram from Gen. Wallace M. Greene jr., Marine Corps commandant, received by the family said the young Marine was in serious condition and the "prognosis is guarded." Pfc. Thomason initially was placed aboard the U. S. Naval hospital ship, U.S.S. Sanctuary, later being transported to the Philippines by air.

The welcome telephone call came to the Marine's grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Thomason, 126 Garesche Homes, Madison, as his parents are without telephone service.

Landing at Scott Base

"Billy Joe talked several minutes," Mrs. Thomason said, adding that the connection was not too clear, but she heard very distinctly that his hospital plane would land at Scott Air Force Base near Belleville sometime yesterday or today.

She understood him to say he would have a two-hour stopover at Scott, before being transferred to the hospital at Great Lakes, and that he would have someone wire his parents as soon as he had completed the second leg of his journey home and landed in California.

"His time of arrival here was a little confusing due to the difference in time," his grandmother explained. "But he sounded just fine, and we were so glad to hear he was coming home."

Pfc. Thomason attended Venice and Madison schools. He worked at the Granite City Army Depot commissary, in St. Louis and at the Schermer Brothers Supermarket prior to entering the service last Sept. 20. He had served in Vietnam about one month.

$1,106,000 Given Here So Far to Hospital Project

Plans to form a seven-man committee to serve as advisers for the St. Elizabeth Hospital expansion and modernization program were discussed with the hospital lay advisory board Monday afternoon, when board members learned the fund-raising drive now exceeds the minimum $1 million goal by $106,000.

Reporting results of various divisions working in the campaign, Frank Wheeler of Haney Associates pointed out that donor cards still are being processed, with contributions expected to continue from various sources for at least six months.

He made special reference to the outstanding job by hospital employees and medical staff members in helping to achieve the minimum goal. "Special mention also was accorded Lyle F. Gulley and Delancy J. Davis, drive co-chairmen, and C. E. Townsend, honorary chairman of the campaign.

Anthony E. Michel said a seven-member committee to advise on the construction-improvement program will be elected from a group of individuals known as the Associates of St. Elizabeth Hospital. Members of the associate group contributed sums of $1000 or more to the fund-raising drive. Letters are being mailed this week seeking nominations to the committee.

As part of the hospital's long-range development program, John Dreves, St. Elizabeth public relations director, was named development director. His re-ordinating the program. It was reported that the Haney firm will continue to function as a consultant.

An application for additional state funds for a proposed extended care unit will be filed with appropriate authorities prior to July 31, it was announced. Joseph W. Glik serves as president of the lay advisory board.

State Buys Another 131 Acres by Cahokia Park

The original park totaled 144 acres. Sinces last December, Illinois has acquired 363 acres in the park area for $557,047 as part of a long-range expansion program. About 66 acres in the vicinity of the park are to be used as right-of-way for Interstate Route 255.

Porgy and Bess Singers to Entertain at SIU-SW Friday

The Porgy and Bess Singers will appear at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus Friday at 3:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

A presentation of the SIU Artist Lectures Series, whose chairman is Prof. Robert W. Duncan of the University's Humanities Division, the program will feature Avon Long, Lucia Hawkins and Levern Hutcherson. Both performances are open to the public without charge.

Long first achieved fame with his portrayal of Sportin' Life in the Broadway production of "Porgy and Bess."

Featured in more than a dozen Broadway plays and musicals, he has been acclaimed for such productions as "Very Warm for May," "Bloomer Girl," "Green Pastures," "Shuffle Along," "Mrs Patterson" and "Memphis-Bound." He has also appeared in films for Warner Brothers, M-G-M and Twentieth Century Fox.

Miss Hawkins's soprano voice has been described as one of "real beauty, with a musical line that is flowing and wonderfully colorful." She has toured the United States, Canada and the Caribbean as soloist with the Porgy and Bess Trio, presenting highlights of opera and Broadway.

Miss Hawkins has appeared also with the Symphony of the Air, the Miami Symphony and the Trenton Symphony, and has been featured at Radio City Hall and on the Johnny Carson "tonight Show."

Hutcherson has a background which includes radio, television and stage appearances. He received high critical acclaim for his performance as Joe, the original tenor lead, in the Broadway production of "Carmen Jones" and for his work in the film where he sang for Harry Belafonte. Hutcherson was chosen to sing the role of Porgy in the New York production of "Porgy and Bess" and was one of its stars on the recent world tour. He has also appeared in "Show Boat."

"Great! is the word which describes the performances—individual and collective—of the Porgy and Bess Singers," said one critic. Another described the singers as "Something fresh, unusual and very delightful."

Courses Being Offered To State Employees

Thirty-four courses are being offered in this area for state employees who wish to improve their skills, an Illinois Department of Personnel Catalogue for fall courses shows.

SIU-SW will offer 16 credit courses. Alton's SIU campus will offer nine, and six classes in adult education at Alton high school as non-credit classes. Nine courses will be held at the East St. Louis SIU center.

Bob Connell, educational training coordinator of Alton State Hospital and chairman of the training committee of the East St. Louis Mental Health Zone, said most state agencies have distributed the catalogues to their departments so each state employee can study its contents.

At Alton State Hospital, where he is employed, the booklets were given out last week with instructions for registrants to apply between July 31 and Aug. 29.

Registration for the adult education at Alton high school will be Sept. 5-8, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. or 7 to 10 p.m. at the school. The classes will start the week of Sept. 18, and class schedules will be available Aug. 1 from the school.

Registration forms can be obtained from the department or from training coordinators listed in the catalogue.

Connell said each registrant pays his own tuition but is reimbursed upon satisfactory completion of the course. However, the applications have to be reviewed by the hospital training committee and approved by the Mental Health Zone before applicants can register for the classes.

Stan's Market Closing, Music Store to Expand

Stan's Market, located at 3007 Nameoki road, will close its doors Saturday evening and the premises will be remodeled as part of the John Fornaszewski Music Store and Drum Studio, presently situated in the adjoining building.

Owners of the grocery, Stanley and Lala Fornaszewski, have operated the business for the past ten years. Formerly, it was operated for many years as Elliot's Market.

The expansion and remodeling project will enlarge the music studio facility to nearly triple its present size, John Fornaszewski explained. The 50x26-foot studio opened slightly more than a year ago.

The music store proprietor expects to incorporate piano instruction and additional band instruments in the new area, he said. Renovation and refurbishing of the new portion will get underway in August, with completion as soon as possible, he added.

Construction Begins on New Apartments on Pontoon Road

Construction of a multimillion-dollar apartment development that will provide 60 luxury apartment units on 2.5 acres along the 2100 block of Pontoon road has been started by Robert Swiatek of Granite City. The project has been planned since mid-1965.

Building work will be confined to two buildings fronting on Pontoon road until they are completed within the next three to five months, Swiatek said.

One of the buildings will house 16 "garden" luxury units and the other will contain six "town house" luxury units.

Upon completion of the two buildings, work will be started on five other buildings located in the area bounded by Wabash and Amos avenues. These will include four more town house buildings containing six apartments units each, and one additional garden building of 16 units.

Apartments Described

Swiatek said all apartment units will be of luxury-type with complete kitchens containing built-in refrigeration, stoves and dishwashers. Each apartment will be carpeted and include draperies.

All town house units will have one and a half baths and basement rumpus rooms for each unit.

A swimming pool in the center of the development is planned as construction progresses, and recreation and rumpus rooms for use of all occupants of the development will be built in the basements of both the 16 - unit garden apartment buildings.

The development, which will be known as Maryland Manor, will cost well over a million dollars, Swiatek said. General contractor is the Jim Green Construction Co.

It's Happening in Southern Illinois

Instant Sleep Induced By Little Black Box

(SIU Information Service)

You could look a long time before you'd find a scientist with a working motto like "Always Believe in Magic," but then you don't often run across scientists like Alfred W Richardson.

He has been mentioned before in "It Happening in Southern Illinois," but only as a commentator on the colleague's work.

Richardson's own world is an unlikely blend of the practical, the fanciful and the farthest reaches of blue-sky research. He's won prizes, patents and no little fame for inventions and discoveries in biophysics and medicine ranging from meters and pumps used in heart-lung surgery to an electromagnetic whatchamacallit the Navy thinks can be used to drive their submarines with absolute silence.

Richardson's current interest (forget that pun) is a field in which he can rightfully be called a pioneer. It is electroanaesthesia, the inducement of sleep by means of electrical current.

He has this little black box with a couple of attached electrodes which can be taped across your temples. Plug it in, turn it on, and—Presto—instant nighty-night. No pain, no memory of pain.

Turn off the box and you snap back to immediate, bright-eyed consciousness. No after-effects.

Contrast this with chemical anaesthesia, such as ether, where rallying time may take from 20 minutes to an hour, attended by nausea and other unpleasant events.

Richardson's box uses so little current to produce its effect—three volts or less—that the phenomenon is "hard to explain in physiological terms."

What does the job between your temples is a 700 cycles-per-second sine wave form. Other frequencies have been successful, but this one is Richardson's favorite.

It always works—on humans, dogs, cats, steers, rabbits, rats, sheep, frogs, even horses and earthworms. As yet, however, no one knows HOW it works. But then, no one knows exactly how chemical anaesthesia works, either.

Electroanaestheisa has been used in more than 500 major operations. Its great advantage is that the anaesthetist can control it precisely; he can know exactly what he's doing.

Richardson also is pursuing its possibilities for use in long manned space trips, where sleep would be difficult but vital to efficiency.

A Herrin native who worked his way through SIU repairing pinball machines, Richardson is back now as head of his own biophysics research laboratory. He is hot on the trail of electroanaesthesia's "working explanation" and expects to present it at this fall's international congress of the Society for Electroanaesthesia, which he helped found.

"It's so simple it's crazy," Richardson says with typical forthrightness. "We've had electricity and 700 cycles for years, but nobody ever stumbled across it. How can it put out an earthworm, which supposedly has no brain?"

Always believe in magic, Doc.

Four 'Pig Rustlers' Caught in Venice

Four youths, one of them 15 years old, were held in the Venice city jail today, accused of pig rustling in the Mitchell area. Police said charges were to be filed later today.

Their arrest followed an 85 miles-per-hour chase from the Mitchell area to Venice, where the owner of the stolen pig lost track of the car occupied by the youths and the pig as it turned off Broadway.

Arthur Ringering, Rural Route One, said he heard a noise, went to investigate and gave chase when the car drove away bearing one of his pigs. He said several pigs had been stolen in recent weeks. After losing the fleeing car, Ringering reported the incident to Venice police.

Police began a search and found the car backed into a yard in the 500 block of Fourth street. Officers said they found the 15-year-old boy at the front of the car and then went to the back of the auto, where they found the other three, one of them holding the pig's snout so it wouldn't squeal.

Weeds in Ponds A Farm Problem

By Albert Meyer of SIU

This is the time of year when farmers begin to have problems with weeds in ponds that have not been properly constructed or have not been managed to combat the growth of plants, according to J. J. Paterson, Southern Illinois U. agricultural engineer.

Proper construction will do much to keep the pond useful and retard the development of nuisance plants. Building the pond with about a three-to-one slope will keep the water at least two feet deep within six feet of the shoreline and will keep many rooted plants from getting established, Paterson says.

Keeping the drainage area of the watershed leading to the pond covered with a healthy grass sod and keeping the pond fenced against farm animals will prevent erosion and silting of the pond.

Plants that may cause trouble in farm ponds fall into a half dozen groups. These are: the submersed water weeds, such as coontail and bladderwort; marsh plants, such as cattails and rushes; rooted plants with floating leaves, such as the waterlilies; floating plants, such as duckweeds, water-hyacinth and waterlettuce; the algae of which the filamentous algae forming pond scum are the worst; and nuisance trees and shrubs, such as willow, alders, briars and woody vines.

Various things need to be done early to keep the plants from getting control in the pond because it does not take long for them to make the pond useless as a water supply source for livestock, irrigation and recreation.

Weed-killing chemicals are useful, but the farmer should seek the advice of specialists about kinds to use and how to apply. Improper use may kill the stock of fish and endanger the life of human beings and animals.

If started early, hand cleaning may be useful and practical for getting rid of cattails, arrowhead, willow and othe nuisance plants. Waterlilies may be cut off under water frequently to keep leaves from getting to the surface and growing. Mowing the dam and the banks of the pond area often will keep down weeds and undesirable woody plants.

Fertilizing the pond early in the spring with 150 pounds per acre of an 8-8-8, 8-8-2, or 10-10-5 analysis fertilizer will foster development of microscopic plants and animals. These will give the water a cloudy appearance and keep sunlight from pnetrating the water, and thus will retard growth of submersed water plants.

SIU-SW Research Department for Industry Planned

Plans for a survey of land and facilities available to industrial expansion in this area were outlined to directors and members of Illinois Metro-East in a dinner meeting at East Alton Tuesday night.

Dr. Delyte Morris, president of Southern Illinois University, outlined the survey program which, he said, would precede plans for establishing a research department designed to produce all data pertinent to aid present industry and that necessary for potential new industry.

The survey, which would establish the type of data necessary for further development of this area's economy, would be staffed by SIU at the Southwestern campus. Dr. Morris told the audience of 35 Metro-East directors and members that SIU wants to mesh its educational program with the area economy and industry.

Questions on technology posed by industry could become research projects for SIU graduate students, Dr. Morris said, adding that "what we are asking you for are suggestions on what is needed."

Chester Baker of Granite City, president of Metro-East, said a committee will be appointed to work with university officials to determine projects for SIU research.

Because of lack of communications with some of the major industries, SIU is not fully aware of what the goals for development of the Metro-East area are, the SIU president told the group.

"I wish the heads of industry would make it clear to SIU what they are willing to do for the area," Dr. Morris said.

Several projects proposed for research included the communications field in this area, the need for a state medical school here and advancement of local cultural programs.

The organization's next meeting will be held in September on a date yet to be set.

Q-C Amvets to Receive Surplus Jet Aircraft

Quad-City Amvet Post 51 will receive a surplus Air Force jet airplane to be installed on its grounds as a memorial to veterans, it was reported at a meeting Wednesday night.

The post has been allotted a priority number for the plane, which will arrive at some time in the future. It is to be flown to Scott Air Force Base, where the engine will be removed.

It will be the responsibility of the post to haul it to this area.

Plans were made for a Family Day on July 22 at the post home. Movies of the recent officer installation will be shown.

Three new members, David Harkey, George Churovich and Charles Hoffman, were introduced. It was reported that Glen Greer is a patient in St. Mary's Hospital, Richmond Heights, Mo.

Ben Sanders, first vice-commander, presided. A lunch was served.

Legion Baseball Team Beats Edwardsville, Collinsville

American Legion Post 113 won its third straight game last night, beating Collinsville 4-2 at Wilson Park, and so wrapped up the season of league play with a 6-6 record.

The game typified the kind of baseball Granite City has been playing since it caught fire two weeks ago, and was not as close as the score might indicate.

After being touched for two unearned runs on two hits in the first inning, Granite City's Steve Lengyel pitched no-hit ball the rest of the distance.

Granite City banged out nine hits, and scored in the second, fourth and sixth innings. Mike Dochwat led the hitting with three safeties and two RBI's, while Patton and Ripka chipped in with two hits apiece.

In the second, Granite City scored one as Steve Coakley, the front-runner of a double steal, barreled safely across the plate. In the fourth, a single by Dochwat drove in two runs, and in the sixth Coakley's single produced the game's final score.

Outstanding ball players for Granite City this season included Steve Lengyel, who had a phenomenal .025 earned run average over 28 innings, and five hitters with high averages: Larry Ripka .418, Steve Patton .408, Mike Dochwat .360, Carl Benson .333 and Steve Collins, .271.

Score 11-2 Victory

Edwardsville tried everything but bringing in the scoreboard as Post 113 ran through three pitchers with a savage line-drive attack and beat the team on its own diamond 11-2 Tuesday.

Granite City wasted no time in setting the pace of the game.

Collins led off in the first by ripping a double to left. Benson, Patton and Ripka then followed with consecutive singles, drving in two runs.

Granite City struck again in the second for four runs, in the fourth for two runs and in the sixth for three runs, when Ripka homered.

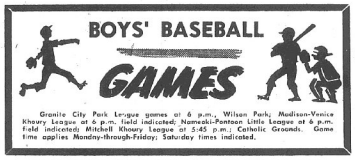

If the Edwardsville moundsmen never see the first four in the Granite City lineup again, it will not be any joo soon for them.

Collins went three for three, all doubles. Benson had three out of four, including one double. Patton single and doubled. And Ripka singled twice and hit the game's only home run.

Don Rains went all the way for Granite City, scattering seven his, striking out six and walking two. The only runs he allowed were in the third, when he gave up a walk, a double and a single.

In other Legion play, Belleville (9-2) clinched a tie for the championship by beating last-place Dupo 5-0 Monday night.

The only team with a crack at the title, Fairmont (8-3), kept in the running by beating Collinsville (5-3) 8 to 3 on Monday night.

When Fish Don't Bite, Some Pick Blackberries

Downstate Fisherman

Southern Illinois lakes and streams were stingy with big fish for the holiday tourists but a bumper crop of king-sized blackberries were everywhere for the picking. More than one fisherman, tired of flailing the unproductive waters, beached his boat and picked a hatful of the glistening fruit.

Perhaps the fruit was better received by the home folks than a stiffening fish at the end of a stringer.

One visiting sportsman from Texas went home with most of the fish honors for the entire region. Richard Selkirk of Houston, Tex., aided by Jack Walton of West Frankfort, tapped Little Grassy Lake for 12 bass. Two were in the lunker category, weighed at the dock as 5½ and 7½ pounds. The dock attendant was told the 5½-pounder took a Rapala lure, while the 7½ pounder succumbed to a lead-head jig.

Elsewhere in southern Illinois, the holiday weekenders who had fish for dinner resorted to worms and minnows to entice bluegills, redear sunfish and crappie. These panfish were biting freely in most of the lakes and ponds as well as the upper reaches of the rivers and creeks.

Trotliners, baiting with minnows, are reaping a harvest of catfish in the Ohio River near Golconda but the late summer spectacle of float cans dancing on the waters is yet to come. Too early for jugging, according to Bill Rottman of Golconda.

Al Peithmann, whose Crab Orchard Lake catch of 65 bass in eight days was reported last week, did not venture out during the holiday weekend. "Too much competition on the big lake from pleasure boaters," he said.

Just before the holiday slump, Charles R. Miller of Markham took a 7½-pound bass from Pounds Hollow Lake, in the Shawnee National Forest southeast of Harrisburg. Lure was a plastic worm, according to Esdon Jarrels, concessionaire at the lake.

As warm weather arrives and the so-called game fish become harder to contact, those lakes stocked with channel catfish will become popular fishing holes.

The channel catfish, according to William Lewis of the fisheries laboratory at SIU, suffers from an increasingly ravenous appetite as the temperatures rise and, unlike most of his cousins, will strike an artificial lure or a minnow. When hooked, he provides a dogged deep-water battle.

2-1, 10-0 Decisions In Fast-Pitch Games

In fast pitch Classic League softball Tuesday night at Wilson Park, Credit Union cakewalked past Kirchner's 10-0 behind the three-hit pitching of George Grove.

Vic Buehler had two of Credit Union's seven hits, while five Kirchner errors helped the victors to score heavily.

Also in the Classic League, Mathews scored two runs in the first inning and then had to hang on for dear life to beat the Merchants 2-1.

Art Borchers, who tripled in one run in the first and scored the other, went four for four. Larry Melton had three hits for the Merchants.

Results Last Night

Falstaff, Kirchner, Mexican Honorary Commission and Club Delmar were second-round winners in Sunday's rescheduled tournament games last night at Wilson Park.

Club Delmar edged past Community Heights Assembly of God 6-5 with two runs started by Bill Seago's double in the last frame.

Falstaff's second win was over Tony & Joe's 9-2 as Danny Graville blasted three homers and John Groboski smashed one. John Allen counted one homer for Tony.

Kirchener earned its second win over a first-round victor, Dairy Master, 8-7 on a four-run sixth frame. Rick Reutebuch led Kirchner with a homer, two singles and double. Dairy Master's Ron Scarborough hit a last-frame homer.

Mexican Honorary had another steamroller, downing Rozycki Realty, which had won the tournament opener, 14-1 on a 20-hit barrage. Dave Sparks had two doubles for Mexican Honorary. Keith Bathenia's homer in the sixth accounted for Rozycki's lone run.

Rallies Win Close Contests for Tony's And Coachliter Teams

Coachliters had almost twice as many hits as VFW, but needed three singles with one out in the bottom of the last inning to squeeze across the deciding run for a 3-4 victory in the 35 & Over League Monday night at Wilson Park.

Top RBI producers for Coachliters, which outhit their opponents 15 to eight, were Leo Robinson, who singled twice and doubled, and George Nenninger, who singled and doubled.

In other Monday 35 & Over games, it was Jacobsmeyer over Midtown Pharmacy 13-6 and Local bowed to Tony and Joe's 7-5.

Jacobsmeyer broke open what had been a nip-and-tuck contest in the fifth inning when it blasted Midtown Pharmacy pitching for seven hits and six runs.

Major contributors to Jacobsmeyer's 19-hit offensive were Les Thompson, with three doubles and a single; Harry Taylor, with a single and home run; Herschel Tyler, with a triple and two singles; and Ollie Jacobsmeyer with three singles.

Local 16 scored three runs in the last inning to go one ahead, but Tony and Joe's came back with three runs of their own in the bottom of the inning to win the contest.

Gus Lignoul, the only man with more than one hit in the game, picked up his second single as he led off the final inning for Tony and Joe's.

In Women's League softball, Kentucky Fried Chicken beat Maryland Bi-Rite 13-3 on Monday, and Skoob-a-Dans rolled past Burger Chef 10-1 on Tuesday.

Red Division All-Stars Win 4-1 Last Night

Red Division pitchers combined for 13 strikeouts and allowed just four hits to help their side past the Blue Division 4-1 in the Inter-City Baseball League all-star game Wednesday night at Fletcher Field in Collinsville.

The Red team stars got all the runs they needed in the second inning as Jim Payne tripled, winning pitcher Lonnie Wilson doubled and an error allowed Wilson to score. The Reds added two runs in the third, and the Blues also scored in that inning.

Tom Calza struck out the side in the sixth and seventh innings for the winners.

Despite the loss, the Blue team still holds an edge in this annual series. It has won ten times, while the Red team has won nine times.

$18,824 Contract Let for Diamonds At Worthen Park

A low bid of $18,824 for the erection of softball diamond lights at Worthen Park was accepted by the Granite City park board during a regular meeting last night.

It was submitted by Dron Electric Co. Other bidders were Rite Electric Co., $16,894, and ABC Electric Co., $15,352.

Specifications call for the erection of 48 combined light fixtures on 80-foot wood poles and underground wiring. Completion date is Oct. 1.

Christmas Plans

Permission was granted Downtown Granite City, Inc., to use Civic Park for its annual Christmas activities, including locating "Santa's House" on or close to the park and decorating trees in the park in a Christmas theme.

Arnold Fleishman, representing Downtown Granite City, in his verbal request to the board commented that the previous location of "Santa's House" at 19th street and Edison avenue presented hazardous conditions to children visiting the house and caused traffic snarls.

He added that choir groups will be arranged for Christmas caroling at Civic Park.

Park board members, headed by Barry Loman, president, felt that the Christmas activities and decorations would be making good use of the park during the Christmas holidays.

Downtown Granite City has has agreed to pay all expenses, including liability insurance, related to use of the park during the period requested. Santa's first appearance will be the day after Thanksgiving.

Screen Pigeons

The board voted to allow construction of a pigeon screening device at a cost of $897 at the ice rink. Members discussed having a ceremony for the opening of the ice rink, scheduled in October, including a professional skating display.

Harold Brown, park district superintendent, reported that a three-day outing to Kansas City Aug. 25-27 will be offered to park district residents.

The trip will be made by bus, leaving Wilson Park on a Friday. It will include a visit to former President Harry Truman's library at Independence, Mo., and a broadway musical, "The Sound of Music," at Swope Park in Kansas City.

Cost of the trip for transportation, two nights of lodging at the Ramada Inn in Kansas City and tickets to the musical is $35 per individual for a single room or $30 per person using a double room.

The bus will be available during the trip for shopping trips and all transportation during the weekend. Meals are not included in the package price. The group will return on a Sunday afternoon. Those interested in going should contact Brown at the park office.

Other Park Outings

Three other outings for park district residents are announced. The first, on Aug. 21, will be a trip to the annual Cardinal Glennon fund-raising football game, which bills the St. Louis Cardinals vs. Baltimore Colts, at a cost of $4 per person, covering cost of game ticket and transportation.

On Oct. 21, a trip to the University of Illinois vs. Notre Dame game at a cost of $12.50 per person includes the game ticket, transportation and dinner.

On Nov. 18, a trip has been scheduled to the University of Missouri vs. Nebraska game at a cost of $9 per person, which covers cost of transportation and game ticket.

Money must be deposited with the park district when ordering tickets, Brown said.

They said they received the first permit under new rules and regulations, but "we will not get a chance to operate a landfill, not only to get a profit for ourselves but to provide a service to the public."

Abel and Miller added that they did not expect "to make a dime" during the first year because of costs, including equipment.

Third Ward Alderman Ray Kozielek, who offered the motion for 10% of the operation, said he resents being criticized on claims that "many county authorities are our tools. We have never been able to get county or state officials to do somthing illegal. The reports seem to be biased.

"It seems that only a few people in that area (Chouteau township) are right, and everyone else is wrong."

After the meeting, the mayor said that operators of the original Chouteau Island landfill have offered to lease for $3600 per year plus free dumping for the city the same tract of land sought by Abel and Miller.

Chamber Seeks Hearings on GC Pure Air Law Amendment

Disapproval of the manner in which the Granite City city council adopted amendments to the city's air pollution ordinance at its July 3 meeting was expressed last evening by directors of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, who authorized letters to council officials requesting public hearings on the issue.

Noting that tremendous impact on area industry could result from changes in the ordinance, which were adopted on a suspension of rules by council members, Chamber directors expressed the opinion that all issues as important to the community as air pollution should be aired at public hearings.

Changes approved by the council on recommendation of the city's Air Pollution Control Board have been described by local industry representatives as "more stringent than state requirements."

Committee Not Informed

After passage of the amendments, William F. Hoelscher, executive director of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities, said that industrial engineers on the committee had not been advised of the changes to be made.

In other action at last night's meeting at the Rose Bowl, Chamber board members authorized expenditure up to $1000 by the Industrial Development Committee to revise and print the Chamber's regional industrial map.

No action was taken on a report by E. G. Schmitt and E. E. Veihl relating to retention of a consulting service of U. S. Chamber of Commerce experts to study overall effectiveness of local Chamber operation.

John Dreves, St. Elizabeth Hospital public relations director, summarized results of the recent fund-raising campaign and described long-range development plans.

Chamber President Howard W. Kaseberg announced that an eight-week business-management course for retail merchants is planned for September and October of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Depot Anniversary Plans

Presentation of a bronze plaque to the Granite City Army Depot, commemorating the 25th anniversary celebration Aug. 1, was approved by board members.

The inscribed plaque will be mounted at the base of the flagpole located in front of Depot headquarters. The Chamber's third annual "Enlisted Man's Recognition Dinner," scheduled for Monday, July 31, at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn, was discussed.

Reporting for the Citizenship committee, Leo H. Konzen noted that within 60 days the committee plans to introduce a series of recommendations resulting from a re-evaluation study of the Chamber's position in public affairs.

William L. Harris, chairman of the Planning and Zoning committee, said members of the committee met Tuesday to discuss updating the city zoning ordinance and to consider a questionnaire submitted by SWIMAPC concerning goals for Granite City.

A study of truck traffic in the downtown area will be concluded within the next two weeks by the Transportation and Highway committee, it was announced by Melvin O. McKay, chairman.

Unsolved

The problem today is how to make both ends meet, but most people are not good with figures.

Says Public Housing Payments Are Too Low

Madison Mayor Stephen Maeras said that the Madison County Housing Authority is not contributing its fair share of the cost of municipal government in lieu of taxes during a luncheon meeting of the Madison Rotary club Wednesday in the Madison Memorial center.

He spoke in rebuttal to a statement made to the club a month ago by a St. Louis Housing Authority official, who said the federal government contributes 10% of public housing rentals in lieu of taxes.

Mayor Maeras said the public pays a ratio of 6 to 1 more than the federal government for the cost of city government and 10 to 1 more for operation of schools.

Twenty-six persons attended the meeting, conducted by Harvey Miller, president. Larry Palkes was program chairman.

Early College Loan Applications Urged

Tentative plans were discussed for the annual Christmas party. The group voted to have the party at the church on Dec. 12 at 7 p.m. Committees will be named at a later meeting.

The current class project is making of bibs to be sent to a nursing home. Many bibs were turned in, and the remainder of the class will continue to work on the project.

The meeting was closed by Mrs. Dorothy Born.

Those attending included Mesdames Naomi Black, Mildred Nash, Thelma Peterson, Juita Carmack, teacher, Jerry Short, Vi Wallace and a guest, Mrs. Midge Wyatt. Games were played at the close of the business session and those winning prizes were Mrs. Carmack, Mrs. Short and Mrs. Black.

School Site Study Continuing This Summer

Continued efforts by the Granite City school district's building site committee were authorized by the school board Monday night after a review of the committee's progress.

Acting on a 1965 state law affecting areas annexed to cities, the board decided to notify the Long Lake and Granite City fire departments that the Grigsby junior high school site is to be surveyed by Granite City firemen.

Supt. Bob J. Davis was instructed to confer with the Pontoon Beach water district regarding an Illinois Inspection and Rating Bureau letter outlining fire hydrant and water pressure needs in the vicinity of schools.

The board asked Supt. Davis to confer with contractors and sub-contractors on financing a night watchman at the Grigsby junior high school, where construction has been delayed by thefts and vandalism. A watchman is being assigned there.

A proposal by Dr. E. W. Walton that the school board draft a letter urging Gov. Kerner to sign the $400,000 Horseshoe Lake improvement bill resulted in an unofficial letter expressing board members' support as individuals.

A decision placed under review at the previous meeting—to move half the kindergarten children at Nameoki school to rented facilities in the basement of the Nameoki Baptist Church—was reaffirmed. The board again decided that, to cope with overcrowding at the school, the kindergarten pupils could be more easily adapted to the move than any other class.

Physical Examinations

The board authorized Supt. Davis to contact the Tri-City Medical Society for the purpose of securing three doctors to conduct physical examinations for school cafeteria workers.

It was noted that this year chiropractors are willing to waive their turn for conducting the exanpinations. There had been yearly alternating in the past.

Purchase of automated accounting equipment for the school business office was scheduled for the next meeting.

The school board voted to purchase from the Mogul firm a year's supply of fuel oil additive for all No. 5 oil used, at a cost of $276.

The district will install a bigger air compressor and motor at Frohardt school at a cost of $111 to improve the temperature control system.

Action on Bids

Bid awards by the board Monday night included expansion of the home economics.

The board approved a $3696 bid from Dron Electric Co. to remodel Room 248 into a home economics kitchen with six teaching stations.

Equipment for the new laboratory was purchased on low bids for specified material from Alton Home Improvement, $94, Hotpoint, $1183, and Feder & Huber, $603. Plumbing work will be done by Triangle Heating for $3383.

The board approved low bids according to specifications on 60 items of instructional supplies, with a 30% National Defense Education Act reimbursement expected.

Awards were: Beckley Cardy Co. $195, School Specialty Supply $484, Bradburn School Supply $1239, Central Scientific $257, Welch Scientific $114, Blackwell Wielandy $276 and Ideal Inc., $227, a total of $2796.

Student Accident Policies

A contract to provide student accident insurance was awarded to Jerry McEvilly representing the United Insurance Co. of America. Cost will be $2.25 for kindergarten through sixth grade pupils and $3.50 for seventh through twelfth graders. High school football player insurance will be $10 at the tryout stage and another $13 for those retained on the team.

With the board now consisting of five members, there were two 4-1 votes, Royce Timmons dissented on purchase of potato chips from the Bost Wholesale firm, and President Monroe Worthen dissented on award of GCHS candy vending to Affiliated Vendors of Collinsville.

Cafeteria paper goods bids were awarded to Aurora Products $1225, Graham's Bookstore $784, Chris Hoerr & Sons $479, Smith-Scharff $47, Stocker Hausmann Co. $1394 and Switzer $117. Total purchases amount to $4039.

For eye protection equipment, U.S. Safety Co. will provide 1330 flexible frame goggles for $784 (unit cost of 59 cents each) and 70 plastic replacement lenses for $28 (unit cost of 40 cents).

From American Optical Co., the board purchased 300 safety glasses for $639 (unit cost of $2.13), and decided that prescription glasses will be ordered from the company at its offered prices of $7.40 for single-focal glasses, $12.25 for bi-focals and $17.50 for tri-focals.

Advertiser Press will provide 1350 copies of a handbook for incoming junior high school students at $206 and 1600 May Day programs for $53. Athletic programs and schedule cards also will be printed at specified rates.

Alright Cleaners was awarded most of the work of dry cleaning school sports apparel, while Bellemore One Hour Cleaners were awarded the cleaning of band and cheerleader uniforms.

Venice Police Begin Wheel Tax Arrests

Venice police began a drive on delinquent motorists and truck drivers yesterday afternoon with two arrests on charges of making city deliveries without a license.

Police booked Harold G. Hooker, 29, East St. Louis, on a May 1 charge of having no city delivery license, and Wilbur H. Toenjes, 42, Millstadt, on a like charge. Both posted bonds pending hearings on Aug. 2.

Deadline for obtaining wheel tax tags for passenger cars and licenses for trucks was Tuesday. City auto wheel tax stickers costing $3 as well as all other vehicle tax tags went on sale May 1.

A total of 930 auto tax stickers had been sold today, compared to last year's total of 1035. Miscellaneous licenses totaled 174 today. Last year, 203 had been sold in the same period.

In attempting to clarify public misunderstandings, the mayor reported that the East Side Levee District is basing its sewage treatment plant bills on water meter readings of mid-December to mid-March. He said the plant is now in operation and that rates will be decreased if and when other municipalities join the system.

New street lights were ordered for Kennedy drive and Washington avenue and for Kennedy and Greenwood street and an alley light behind 1665 Third street.

Second Fire Siren

The mayor asked council committees to consider installation of a second fire siren, also to be used for storm and alert warnings, at the 12th street playground or some other appropriate location, since the city's single siren cannot be heard in all parts of the city.

Alderman John Haynes said that at times the siren cannot be heard in West Madison. The mayor estimated the cost at $700 to $800.

The council authorized a contract with Marshall Stevens & Co. of St. Louis to update appraisals of city buildings at a cost of $50 to qualify the city for cheaper insurance rates.

The mayor was authorized to execute an annual reciprocal agreement for fire protection with the Granite City Army Depot.

Brief Yourself On Your Child's Camp

Before you send your child off to camp, take time to adequately prepare yourself and your camper for the experience. Brief yourself on your child's camp program and leaders. Note arrival and departure dates, transportation arrangements and names of counselors.

Find out whether the child must have a health examination. It's a good idea to have one even if it is not required. It will be helpful in case insurance claims should be necessary. If your child must be limited in his activities, have the doctor note this fact on the health certificate.

The camp dietitian will appreciate knowing any special requirements about the child's diet. But be reasonable. If there are many restrictions, it's wise to check with the camp staff to see whether the camp can handle the child's needs.

Camp catalogs are usually accurate in suggesting what to take to camp. Unless your camper needs special articles, have him take only what the camp suggests. Identify all clothing, bedding, towels, and toilet articles. Itemize the contents of each suitcase, and paste a copy of the list inside.

Check with the camp director on the need for spending money and the amount.

Remember to record the camp telephone number, director's name and mailing address before your child leaves home.

Wick-Watering Provides Self-Help for House Plants

Wick-watering may help your house plants feed for themselves when you're away on vacation this summer—if you can't get someone to water them in your absence.

Try the wick-watering system several weeks before you plan to leave, just to be sure it works. Here's how to do it:

First, water all plants thoroughly. Submerge the pots up to the rims in tepid water for 15 to 20 minutes, and syringe all foliage except the hairy-leaved types.

Then, set all pots around a large container of water. The container should be level with, or preferably higher than, the pots. Or, you can use several individual quart bottles of water. Use only water that has gone through a home-type water softener.

To convey the water from the container to the plants, use lengths of cotton wicking or clothesline (with sizing removed). Cover the middle section of each wick strip with aluminum foil to prevent excessive evaporation.

Insert one of the strips in the water, and the other end in the soil of each pot. A two-week supply is about one quart of water for two six-inch pots.

Putting each plant into a polyethylene bag will also help to conserve soil moisture while you are away. Don't completely seal the bags—allow for some air movement. Keep the bagged plants in bright light, but never in direct sunlight.

Grigsby School Work Payments Continuing

The bill list approved at Monday night's meeting of the Granite City school board included expenditures for construction of the new Paul A. Grigsby junior high school.

Total expenditures from the building fund were $57,897, of which $56,223 was paid to the Leo Wolf Construction Co., general contractor for the building.

From the new construction fund, $26,543 was paid to the Triangle Heating Co. for equipping the Grigsby school with plumbing and installing central heating in the building.

In the education fund on the bill list, $778 was approved for the tuition reimbursement program, which allows faculty members to take university courses at half-cost, with the school district paying for the other half. Forty-three received amounts ranging from $5 to $210.

Education fund expenditures totaled $7381, and bonds and interest $131,762.

Venice Park Tax Levy Approved, $1385 Decrease

The Venice park district board approved Tuesday night a 1967-68 tax levy calling for extension of $71,305, the same amount budgeted for expenditure during the current fiscal year. The levy is down $1385 from last year's $72,690 levy.

Park Board Attorney Harry E. Hartman said the levy will result in tax rates of 10 cents for the recreation fund, plus for the recreation fund, plus whatever amount is needed to meet the municipal retirement fund budget.

The tax levy calls for $44,405 in the general fund, $23,400 in the recreation fund and $3500 in the retirement fund.

Plants Say

tions on a specific point are not compatible with the state standards.

"On this basis," Hoelscher said, "industry in Granite City will be forced into relying upon this state legal attitude if the present Granite City ordinance is not reconsidered and public hearings conducted so that we at least may express our views and acquaint the city council with our problem.

"This would put us in the position of being uncooperative in the local pollution picture, when actually we have every desire to be cooperative," he added.

Sought Public Hearings

Public hearings on the amendments were sought by the manufacturers' association before they were enacted by the city council, Hoelscher added.

After the ordinance was passed, Hoelscher related, the manufacturers' association asked Mayor Partney to delay signing the ordinance until public hearings could be conducted. He said the mayor signed the bill regardless of the request.

"We (the manufacturers' association) were surprised the amendments were presented to the council by the air pollution board and were passed by the aldermen without public hearings to determine the effect the regulations would have upon the city's economy."

Approve Variance

The air pollution board Monday night, on motion of board member Dr. George Wilkins jr., approved a variance extension for Lipsett Steel Co. contingent upon the keeping of a long of wind direction and other data pertinent to burning operations.

A committee to study board policies for enforcement of the city air pollution control ordinance also was appointed. The committee consists of Henry Bieniecki, board chairman, Theodore Macios and Sidney Womack.

No discussion was held on the objections presented by Hoelscher and Robertson.

Venice Tax Office Closes Tomorrow, Much Still Due

Local collection of Venice township taxes will end tomorrow at 3 p.m. at the temporary tax office at Fourth street and Madison avenue, Town Collector Frank Reidelberger pointed out today.

Reidelberger said that tax collections at the close of business yesterday amounted to $625,388, or about one-fifth of the total township tax extension of $2,767,152.

Bulk of the tax bill is paid by Union Electric Co., however, and these payments are expected to be made tomorrow before local collections are discontinued, the collector said. The local collection opened June 19.

After the books are balanced they will be forwarded to the county treasurer's office, where a 1% penalty will be added to payments made in the future.

Venice township receives a 2% commission on all taxes paid locally. After the books go to the county, the county treasurer receives a 3% commission, none of which is remitted to the township.

Train Delays Ambulance; Trainmaster Arrested

Donald McBride, trainmaster of a Norfolk & Western train which was alleged to have blocked the railroad tracks at 20th street for about 20 minutes, was arrested last night by Granite City police and charged under Illinois statutes with blocking a railroad crossing.

The arrest followed complaints to police by an ambulance driver, who said he was on an emergency run related to an illness case and had been held up at the crossing for about 20 minutes. McBride was served with a notice to appear at a magistrate's hearing. The ambulance driver said it was necessary to call police because the train crew refused to do anything about it; the condition of the patient was not serious.

ORDINANCE No. 2476
AN ORDINANCE AMENDING ORDINANCE No. 2236, THE AIR POLLUTION CONTROL ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF GRANITE CITY, ILLINOIS.

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Granite City, Illinois, at a regular meeting on February 27, 1967, authorized the City Attorney of the City of Granite City to work with the Air Pollution Control Board to prepare amendments to the Air Pollution Control Ordinance, and

WHEREAS, the Air Pollution Control Board, by and through its members and Technical Secretary, have, after lengthy study, developed said amendments which are compatible with State regulations;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GRANITE CITY, ILLINOIS:

SECTION 1: That Section 7 of Ordinance No. 2236 be amended to read as follows:

Section 7. Rules and Regulations. The following rules and regulations shall apply in the administration and enforcement of this Ordinance:

(A) The provisions of this section shall apply to all classes of processes and equipment covered by these Rules and Regulations. Unless otherwise provided herein, the Technical Secretary shall determine such classification.

(B) The Ringelmann Chart, hereby made a part of these Rules and Regulations by reference, shall be used for grading the appearance, density, or shade of smoke.

(C) The production or emission of dense smoke within the City is prohibited. No person shall cause, suffer, or allow to be emitted into the open air from any fuel-burning equipment, internal combustion engine, premise, open fire, or stack, smoke the appearance, density, or shade of which is No. 2 or darker of the Ringelmann Chart for existing facilities and which is No. 1 or darker of the Ringelmann Chart for new facilities.

(D) The production or emission within the City of combustion gases containing particulate matter in excess of specific limitations hereinafter set forth is prohibited:

(1) No person shall cause, suffer, or allow to be emitted into the atmosphere from any fuel-burning equipment, process, or premise, or to pass a convenient measuring point near the stack outlet, particulate matter in the gases to exceed the values determined by the process weight in accordance with Table I. Emission of particulate matter from a particular source shall be determined in accordance with the American Society of Mechanical Engineers "Power Test Codes, Test Code for Dust Separation Apparatus, PTC-27-1957" procedure.

(2) Fuel-burning equipment, accessories, or auxiliary devices used for recirculating gases or reintroducing solid fuel into the combustion chamber shall be so designed and operated that the total particulate matter emitted to the atmosphere shall not exceed the limits set forth in the foregoing paragraph.

(E) The provisions of Section 7, subsections (C) and (D) shall not apply to uncontrollable emissions occasioned by breakdowns of fuel-burning equipment or other failure which is not reasonably preventable, or by the maintaining and repair of air pollution control equipment. At such occurrences, the person responsible for such equipment shall forthwith report the occurrence to the Technical Secretary by telephone, confirmed in writing, giving the operating permit number of the equipment and complete details of such breakdown, failure, maintenance, or repair, together with a statement of the date upon which the condition will be rectified. The person responsible for such equipment shall exercise every reasonable effort to overcome the emission without undue delay, and shall notify the Technical Secretary forthwith when this has been accomplished.

(F) Power Plants, Heating Plants, and Domestic Heating Plants. The provisions of this sub-section shall apply to power plants, heating plants, domestic heating plants, and other indirect heaters.

(1) The following exception to the provisions of Section 7, subsection (C) above shall be permitted: when building a new fire, when manually cleaning a fire, when blowing tubes and flues, or when cleaning air pollution control equipment, in a power plant, heating plant, or domestic heating plant, smoke may be emitted of an appearance, density, or shade darker than No. 2 of the Ringelmann Chart, and particulate matter in excess of limitations may be emitted, for a period or periods aggregating not more than six (6) minutes in any sixty (60) minute period.

(2) The provisions of Section 7, sub-section (D) shall not apply to sub-section (F).

(3) The allowable emission for any stack shall be limited by the ASME Standard No. APS-1 dated June 15, 1966, "Recommended Guide for the Control of Dust Emission-Combustion for Indirect Heat Exchangers". Irrespective of stack height, the maximum allowable emission for any stack shall be 0.6 pounds of particulates per million BTU input.

(G) Miscellaneous Pollutants from Combustion.

(1) This section shall apply to incinerators, dryers, kilns, roasters and other miscellaneous equipment and to open fires.

(2) The following exception to Section 7, sub-section (C) and (D) shall be permitted.- When starting up a dryer, kiln, roaster and other equipment used in connection therewith, smoke, the appearance, density or shade of which is No. 2 or darker of the Ringelmann Chart shall be permitted for a period or periods aggregating not more than six (6) minutes in any sixty (60) minute period.

(3) Incinerators of All Types.

(a) Incinerator shall completely consume not less than 90% of all combustible material charged into them, except that domestic gas-fired incinerators shall meet the standards given in the American Standards Association publication Z-21.6-1957, or latest revision thereof.

(b) No person responsible for the operation of an incinerator of 200 pounds per hour capacity or more, shall cause, suffer or allow to be emitted into the atmosphere from any incinerator or pass a convenient measuring point near the stack outlet, fly ash in the gases, to exceed 0.20 grains per standard cubic foot of gases.

(c) No person responsible for the operation of an incinerator of less than 200 pounds per hour capacity shall cause, suffer or allow to be emitted into the atmosphere from any incinerator or pass a convenient measuring point near the stack outlet, fly ash in the gases, to exceed 0.30 grains per standard cubic foot of gases.

(d) No incinerator shall be operated to produce smoke of a shade or density of No. 2 or darker of the Ringelmann Chart, except for a period or periods aggregating not more than three (3) minutes in any sixty (60) minute period while cleaning air pollution control equipment.

(4) Open Fires.

(a) Open fires for recreational purposes shall be permitted.

(b) Open fires for the disposing of rubbish shall be permitted where no rubbish collection service is available, provided that such burning of refuse does not cause air pollution.

(c) Other open fires may be permitted providing they are approved by the Board and a permit is issued by the Technical Secretary. The Technical Secretary shall issue a permit for open fires on the approval of the Board.

(d) No other open fires causing air pollution shall be permitted.

(H) Emission of Sulfur Compounds in Certain Amounts and Manner Restricted.

(1) No person shall cause or permit the emission of sulfur dioxide from any premises in such manner and amounts that the concentrations and frequencies attributable to such emission exceed those shown in the following table in the ambient air at any occupied place beyond the premises on which the source is located.

Concentration*	Averaging Time	Maximum Allowable Frequency
0.25 ppm or more	5 minutes	Once in any 8 hours
0.10 ppm or more	1 hour	Once in any 4 days
0.05 ppm or more	24 hours	Once in any 90 days

* Parts per million by volume.

(2) No person shall cause or permit the emission of sulfuric acid or sulfur trioxide or any combination thereof from any premises in such manner and amounts that the concentrations and frequencies attributable to such emission exceed those shown in the following table in the ambient air at any place where people live, work or congregate beyond the premises on which the source is located.

Concentration* of sulfuric acid or sulfur trioxide or any combination thereof	Averaging Time	Maximum Allowable Frequency
0.03 mg/m3 or more	30 minutes or more	Once in any 48 hrs.
0.01 mg/m3 or more	24 hours	Once in any 90 days

* Milligrams per cubic meter at standard conditions, measured and calculated as sulfuric acid.

(3) No person shall cause or permit the emission of hydrogen sulfide from any premises in such manner and amounts that the concentrations attributable to such emissions in the ambient air at any occupied place beyond the premises on which the source is located exceed a concentration of 0.03 parts per million by volume for any averaging period of 30 or more minutes or more than two occasions in any 5 consecutive day period, or 0.05 parts per million by volume for any averaging period 30 or more minutes more than two times per year.

(4) In any situation in which more than one requirement of this regulation is applicable, the most restric-time provision shall govern.

(I) If an industrial, fuel-burning, or other process is not capable of attaining the emission restrictions set forth by the provisions of these regulations because of the limited capabilities of available air pollution control equipment, persons required to comply with the provisions of these regulations that cannot do so because of the limited capabilities of available air pollution control equipment, shall install the air pollution control equipment which will result in the highest level or particulate emission control possible at the time in which the work is being performed. Approval of the Granite City Air Pollution Board is required in this instance prior to the equipment being purchased and installed. No variance is required.

(J) THE GOAL OF THIS ORDINANCE IS TO PREVENT THE QUANTITIES OF CONTAMINANTS AND POLLUTANTS IN THE AMBIENT AIR FROM RISING ABOVE THE SPECIFIED CONCENTRATIONS UNDER THE CONDITIONS STATED IN THE FOLLOWING TABLE:

Auxiliary Told Of Girls State

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113 met last night at the Legion home with Miss Mary Harris as a special guest. Miss Harris, who was selected to attend Girls' State this year, gave a resume of activities there and her experiences.

While there, she was elected superintendent of schools for her "city" and also made a tour of Springfield with all of the girls.

A letter from Miss Margie Ollar acknowledging a scholarship was read. The scholarship is presented to a child of a living veteran. The formal presentation will take place Aug. 19.

Announcement was made of a sale of handicraft items and bakery goods to be held at the Nameoki Village shopping center in September. There also will be on display at that time handicraft items made by the veterans.

The members discussed a visit to the city council in the near future and Mrs. Alma Klaus announced presentation of an American flag to the Anchorage Senior Citizens.

Prizes in games were won by Mrs. Kitty Morris, Mrs. Melba Wade, Mrs. Helen Qualls, Mrs. Ella McKittrick, Mrs. Cecelia Malottki and Mrs. Pauline Birks.

Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Mildred Rees.

Banana Bran Muffins . . .

Highlight Breakfast

A moist, tender muffin can make any breakfast a real joy for the bread lover in the family. These Banana Bran Flake Muffins will readily prove this point. They are rich tasting but not too rich because of their small amount of fat. Mashed banana contributes moistness. Dieters, in fact, will find they can be savored without spreading with butter or jelly. A cup of bran flakes poured from your cereal package on the shelf provides toasty flavor and sturdy texture, plus a bonus of nutrition. Cereals are economical sources of food energy, protein, minerals, and the B vitamins.

Banana Bran Flake Muffins

1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup melted shortening or oil
½ cup milk
1 cup mashed bananas
1 cup bran flakes

Combine flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar; sift into mixing bowl. Add egg, shortening, milk, and bananas; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in cereal. Fill greased muffin pans (2½ x 1½ inches) ⅔ full. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) until done, 18 to 20 minutes.

Yield: 12 muffins.

Regents College Chapter Night

The Granite City chapter of the Women of the Moose held a College of Regents chapter night meeting last night with Mrs. Doris Martin, senior regent, presiding.

The senior regent introduced the members of the College and Mrs. Marian Lipscomb, chairman, presided over the program and a red tassel ceremony for Mrs. Margaret Noonan.

Mrs. Rose Halbert was the aide and Mrs. Margaret Fronabarger was chairman of the tassel ceremony.

Several guests were present from the Collinsville and Alton College of Regents, as well as those of the local chapter.

Prizes for the evening went to Mrs. Edith Rodgers, Mrs. Fronabarger, and Mrs. Jean Tellor. Lunch was served by the College of Regents committee.

The director of chapter activities from Mooseheart, Mrs. Toni Marinello, will be guests speaker at the next meeting.

Area Chambers Urge Signing of Lake Park Bill

A resolution urging Gov. Otto Kerner to sign the Horseshoe Lake appropriation bill was approved unanimously by representatives of the Metro-East Chambers of Commerce Association in a meeting at East Alton Monday night.

The resolution was forwarded to Gov. Kerner Tuesday by Clarence Dunn, secretary of the association.

The bill, given final legislative approval in the closing hours of the Illinois Senate session two weeks ago, provides a $400,000 fund with which to purchase approximately 1700 acres of the Horseshoe Lake area—1400 acres of it in lake bottom.

If the bill is signed by the governor it will mark the first definite step toward proposed development of the lake area as a new state park and recreation and conservation area.

The development program was proposed at the opening of the General Assembly in January in a report submitted by the Illinois Horseshoe Lake Commission headed by Hendy D. Karandjeff, Granite City banker.

Labor Backs Project

Approval of the Mecca resolution Monday night followed announcement a week ago by the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, AFL-CIO, that it had voted all-out backing of the lake development project. The council sent a letter to Gov. Kerner urging his approval of the lake appropriation.

Edwin F. Reiske, president of the council, said he intends to introduce a resolution supporting further phases of the lake improvement project in the Illinois State AFL-CIO convention at Peoria in September.

Mecca members were presented a report by William Straube, chairman of the Madison County Citizens' Planning Commission, on a discussion of coordinated area-wide planning held at a meeting in Edwardsville three weeks ago.

Representatives of the U. S. Housing and Urban Development Department's Chicago regional office emphasized a need for coordinated planning before communities and tax agencies can qualify for federal grants, Straube told the Mecca group.

Quorum Lacking, Town Board Meet Postponed

The Nameoki township board postponed its scheduled meeting Tuesday night because of lack of a quorum. All business slated for the session was held over until the regular bi-monthly meeting next Tuesday.

John Karlechik, town clerk is on vacation and Robert Strackiejahn, board member, was unable to attend the meeting Tuesday, leaving only two board members and the supervisor. Three members are required for a quorum.

Supervisor Harry Briggs was present but the supervisor votes only in event of a tie vote between the other four members. Township Attorney Nick Vasileff also was present and ruled a legal meeting could not be held without three members, not counting Briggs.

Marine Terry Cooper In Combat Training

Marine Pvt. Terry M. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Cooper, 72 Venice Homes, Venice, has graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif. He will now undergo about three weeks of individual combat training and then, after a leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

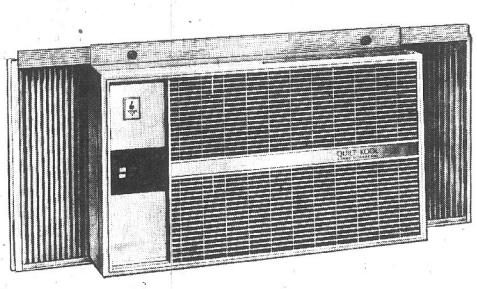

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and .45-caliber pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork. A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first-aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine recruit education and prepare him to join combat forces.

Venice Income $2826 In June; Costs $24,264

The city of Venice had income of $2826 and expenditures of $24,264 during June, according to the latest monthly treasurer's report.

City Treasurer Bernard Anderson reported the city had a balance of $38,977 at the beginning of June, however, giving the city total June operating capital of $61,803.

Payment of the disbursements left the city a cash balance of $37,539 as of July 1. Mayor John E. Lee reports that this should be sufficient to finance operations until the city receives its first payment of 1966 taxes collected by Venice Township Collector Frank Reidelberger.

Income during June included $390 in police fines, $250 in tavern license fees, $220 in truck licenses, $978 in wheel tax fees, $25 in peddler's license fees and $961 in municipal retirement taxes.

Principal disbursements during the month included $8781 for operation of the police department, $3629 for the street department, $3266 for garbage collection, $2370 for city officials and $2313 for operation of the fire department.

Population Under Age Of 14 to Be Surveyed

Information about the number of children under 14 as well as the number of owner-occupied and rented households will be collected in a Census Bureau survey to be conducted here during the week of July 17, Director Theodore F. Olson of the Census Regional Office in Chicago announced today.

The information will help population experts in determining national population trends and will provide economic data about U. S. households.

The questions are part of the bureau's monthly Current Population Survey taken from a sample of the population throughout the U. S. Simultaneously, questions about employment will be asked for the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics to determine national employment and unemployment trends.

Identity of households participating in the survey is confidential and the facts obtained are used only for statistical purposes.

Varied Attractions at County Fair July 25-29

Madison county fair officials are promising a list of diversified attractions guaranteed to appeal to all ages and tastes when the 20th annual Free Fair and Livestock Exhibition is staged at Lindendale Park in Highland July 25-29.

Officials report that the most recent addition to the fairgrounds is a new Exposition Building, which will contain thousands of exhibits, a snack bar, restroom facilities and the fair offices.

Prior to the county fair's opening day, an interfaith worship service will be held in the arena, starting at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, July 23.

Speaker will be Dr. Howard Short of the Disciples of Christ Church. Choral music will be provided by the combined choirs of Highland churches, under the direction of Rupert Schwartztrauber of St. Paul's Church.

Student Exhibits

Exhibits during the fair will include displays by Madison county students, who will compete for prize money in such subjects as art, handicraft, mathematics, science, social studies and language arts.

Textiles and fine arts exhibits will spotlight oil paintings, water colors, photography and needlecraft.

Top beef cattle, swine, sheep, poultry, pigeons and rabbits will be exhibited by adults and juniors, with numerous 4-H club members expected to participate in this phase of the activity.

A "Demolition Derby" at 8 p.m. Monday, July 24, offers nerveless drivers approximately $700 in prize money, while on Thursday and Saturday evenings during the fair, late model stock car races will be presented for the first time in the Highland area.

Competitors in the stock car events will drive 1960-67 model cars, with time trials set for 7 p.m. and the races to get under way at 8 p.m.

Dog, Horse Shows

Dog obedience demonstrations and an all-breed exhibition will take place at 1:30 p.m. Friday, July 28, in the arena, with no admission charged those viewing the show.

At 7 p.m. the same day, a "light and western horse show," will be staged with trophies and ribbons to be awarded in three divisions—English equitation, 17 years and under; junior western pleasure, 17 years and under; and jumping class.

Tractor driving and tractor pulling contests also will be featured during the week-long fair.

A special midweek attraction will spotlight Marty Bronson, St. Louis vocalist, and Skeets Yaney, a country-western star, in a "jamboree sing" set for 8 p.m. Wednesday, July 26. Also on the program are the Lively Lesters and Kathleen Mardel, an acrobatic stylist.

The couple and their three youngsters, Deborah, eight years old, Michael, six, and Cheryl Ann, four, presently are getting settled in their new quarters.

Assigned to the Quad-City area by Lt. Col. Olin N. Brigman of St. Louis, divisional commander, Capt. and Mrs. Thomas have been stationed for the past four years at Jacksonville, Ill., where their jurisdiction encompassed an area of 30,000 population.

Car Shears Off Hydrant, Runs Into Parked Auto

J. B. George, 20, East St. Louis, posted $125 cash bond Monday under two traffic charges filed by Venice police at 2:30 p.m. after George's car sheared off a fire plug at 1000 Market street and then struck a parked auto.

George was charged with driving without a driver's license and failing to stop.

He told police that another car forced him off the street, causing his vehicle to hit the fire plug and the parked car, which was owned by Marcella Daffin, 1124 Douglas street, Venice.

Police said George's car dragged the hydrant 294 feet down Market street and had skidded 48 feet before striking it.

Gasoline Tax Hike To Go Into Effect In Area on Aug. 1

The Quad-City Gasoline Dealers Association reported, after its regular meeting Tuesday night, that the recently passed cent-a-gallon increase in the state gasoline tax will go into effect locally on Aug. 1.

Ralph Strain, association president, said this will make the price of regular gasoline 24.9 cents per gallon, plus four cents federal tax, six cents state tax and two cents sales tax, totaling 36.9 cents per gallon.

The dealers decided at this time that they will try to absorb an additional new increase in the sales tax.

Also discussed at the meeting was the National Congress of Petroleum Retailers' convention to be held Aug. 22 to Sept. 1 at San Juan, Puerto Rico. Delegates will be named at the Aug. 8 meeting.

Fifteen dealers attended this week's session held in the office of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce.

Birth Defects, Prematurity Affect 10% of Infants Here

Birth defects or prematurity menace the health of more than one of every 10 babies born in Madison county, a Granite City physician said this week.

Dr. Felicia Koch, president of Madison County Medical Society and medical advisor to the Madison county chapter of The National Foundation - March of Dimes in its fight against birth defects, has made public for the first time these statistics:

In 1965, babies totaling 4812 were born in Madison county. Of these, 382 were premature and an estimated 340 were birth defects victims.

"The 1965 figures are the latest available from a March of Dimes statistical analysis," Dr. Koch said, "but there is every indication that this toll is continuing at a similar rate today.

"I am also alarmed by the fact that the United States now suffers a death rate of 24.7 of every 1000 infants born alive. The infant death rate in Illinois is 20.6.

Record Only 17th Best

"According to the same March of Dimes analysis, the infant mortality rate here in Madison county also is 20.6," Dr. Koch said.

She commented "This nation's excessive infant mortality rate places us behind 16 other advanced nations." She said this is based on information provided by the United Nations.

Birth defects are the second greatest destroyer of life and the greatest childhood health problem in the U. S. today. Each year, 250,000 American babies are born with birth defects.

Need More Research

"One of the things we can do about this," Dr. Koch suggests, "is to expand research into birth defects and prematurity.

"The March of Dimes now supports 90 Birth Defects Centers for the treatment of patients and research into the mysteries of these afflictions. More such centers are needed.

"Dr. Koch added that, aside from far more research into birth defects, also urgently needed is much wider practice of prenatal care.

"Those of us in this war on birth defects," she said, "are convinced that lack of medical care during pregnancy contributes to the huge number of infant deaths, premature births and certain types of birth defects."

Two Birth Defect Centers are available to all Madison county residents. They are St. Louis Children's Hospital and Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital in St. Louis.

GC Sanitary Sewer Cost Fixed at $256,880

Estimated cost of proposed extensions to Granite City's sanitary sewer system, to be financed in part by revenue bonds and partly with federal funds, is fixed at $256,880 in an official notice of a revenue bond hearing called for July 29. The notice is published in today's issue of the Press-Record.

The hearing will be held in the courtroom on the third floor of the city hall at 10 a.m. Saturday, July 29. The hearing will involve a proposal to issue $156,880 in revenue bonds.

The sanitary sewer improvement is in addition to more than $3 million in stormwater sewer construction authorized by referendum June 10 when voters approved a $1.9 million general obligation bond issue. The balance of the stormwater sewer cost will be financed with $1,400,000 of a $1.5 million federal grant.

The hearing notice specifies five areas in which the sanitary sewer improvements are planned and fixes total cost of the sewers at $498,000. Added to the actual sanitary sewer cost are $13,860 in engineering costs and $29,820 in contingencies for a total of $242,480.

Legal Fees, Interest

An additional $6000 in estimated legal fees and $8400 in the first year's interest on the proposed revenue bonds bring the aggregate to $256,880.

Of this amount, the Proposal specifies $100,000 in federal funds will be provided, leaving the $156,880 balance to come from the sale of revenue bonds.

A schedule of monthly fees to be charged users of new sewers built under the plan also is set out in the public hearing notice.

The schedule provides: single dwellings, $2.50; business establishments, $3.50; churches, $2.50; bowling alleys, $6; theaters, $12; laundries, $40 to $60, and trailers, $1.50.

Third Special GC Budget Meet This Saturday

The third in a series of special budget meetings by the Granite City council has been called for 9 a.m. Saturday, when Mayor Donald Partney may be out of the city.

Call for the special session was issued by City Clerk Homer "Cal" Pendleton on the petition of Aldermen Walter Nonn, Steve Basarich and Clyde Boyd. A minimum of three aldermen is required to call a special meeting.

The council already has held two special meetings, one on June 29 and another last Thursday night, but still is far from determination of a budget figure for the 1967-68 fiscal year which began May 1. The special session last week brought little progress, primarily because only ten of the 16 council members attended.

Two of the aldermen asking the special meeting for Saturday, Basarich and Boyd, did not attend the special meeting last Thursday. The council held no regular meeting this week; next regular council meeting is next Monday, July 17.

Attending Convention

Mayor Partney has been out of the city this week. He is in Washington, where he was to attend the national convention of the Shrine club and meet with representatives of federal agencies concerning federal grants for Granite City.

So far as was known today, the mayor is not expected to return home in time to attend Saturday's special meeting.

Partney has been insisting on economies. Up to July 6, the budget stood tentatively at $2,347,404, but during the 90-minute special session $59,370 was trimmed off this figure.

Cuts May Be Temporary

The reductions, or at least part of them, appeared to be temporary.

Some of the aldermen said changes would be made in the next meeting. Among them was Nonn, who protested the removal of a $15,000 item for fencing along Federal Aid Route 151. The council voted to knock out the item, but Nonn said "we'll put it back in at the next meeting."

The budget needs to be passed in either of the two remaining regular meetings this month—either next Monday or the July 24 session.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezekial Barton, 4222 Highway 162, were hosts to a young world traveler in their home Monday, though quite unexpectedly.

He invited the traveler into his home for a snack and refreshments and listened to some of his experiences.

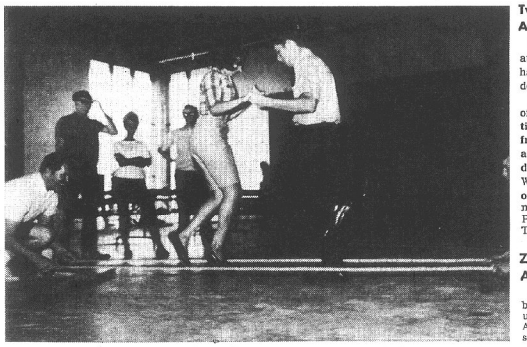

Sweetman has been touring the world for the past two years and currently is hitchhiking across the United States. He has been through France, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Syria and Jordan, and previously lived in Australia for 11 years.

SIU Relaxes Rules for Motor Vehicles, Housing

Responsible upperclassmen may have greater freedom in housing and motor vehicle use at the Carbondale campus of Southern Illinois University.

Letters went into the mail Monday to each undergraduate student announcing changes in the housing and vehicle regulations, effective with the fall quarter.

The letter, from Ralph W. Ruffner, vice-president for student and area services, was accompanied by a digest of the 1967-68 school year regulations. Purpose of the advance notice to students is to help them make plans for the new school year.

Under a section on housing the regulations reiterate the university's basic policy that "single undergraduate students not residing with parents or guardians will be permitted to reside only in those accommodations which have been and continue to be classified by the university administration as 'accepted living centers.'"

The regulations make provisions, however, for acceptance of living centers under the supervision of a student resident manager and which are open only to upperclassmen and graduate students who agree to and comply with SIU housing regulations.

The section on motor vehicles makes no distinction between automobiles and motorcycles or scooters. It reaffirms the general policy expressed by the trustees of the university in 1956, but also provides that juniors and seniors in good academic and disciplinary standing may apply for motor vehicle privileges.

Good academic standing for juniors is defined as an overall grade average of at least 3.75 and for seniors, 3.50 (5.0 is perfect).

Distance of a student's housing from the campus will not be a basis for making an exception to the vehicle rules.

In his letter Ruffner said, "The upperclassman is given greater freedom of choice concerning his living arrangements and in the use of a motor vehicle than has been true heretofore, provided he demonstrates his capacity to deal responsibly with these aspects of the life of the university community."

4-H Dairy Contest to Draw 100,000 Youths

More than 100,000 youths are expected to participate in this year's national 4-H Dairy program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, according to the National 4-H Service Committee.

Opportunities are available for all to learn and achieve certain objectives, including the girls. Last year at the national level, girls surpassed the boys by claiming five of six $500 national scholarships, and 31 of 50 state award winners were girls.

The 4-H project includes animal science, health sanitation, production, herd improvement, management, judging and showing dairy cattle. Detailed records must be kept. Winners are selected by the Extension Service.

Awards offered are county medals, wristwatches, trips to the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago in November and scholarships.

Women as Engineers Find Lucrative Field

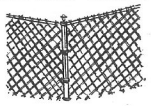

Planning, designing and estimating—all well adapted to women—have become central to engineering work, according to a leaflet just issued by the U. S. Department of Labor.

The illustrated leaflet, "Why Not be an Engineer?", points out that more engineers today work at a desk or in a research lab than at a construction site.

Written by the Women's Bureau for girls considering engineering as a career, the publication cites a recent report that puts the estimated average starting salary of women engineers at $605 a month, more than women graduates in any other field.

The leaflet lists some of the major branches of engineering, tells what courses will be useful and suggests further sources of information. Copies are available at five cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Celebration of '150 Years of the Good Life in Illinois' to Open Dec. 3

"Celebrating 150 years of the good life in Illinois."

That is the slogan for Illinois' 150th anniversary celebration of statehood.

Observance of the 21st state's entry in the Union Dec. 3, 1818, will begin Dec. 3, 1967, and continue through 1968.

The Illinois Sesquicentennial Commission reports that more than 1000 celebrations of the anniversary are now scheduled in the state's 102 counties.

They will range from fish-fries to fairs, from tree plantings to pageants and include a variety of spectacles, musicals, commemorative ceremonies and sports events.

There will also be many projects that reflect the heritage of our state, its greatness today and its unlimited promise for the future.

Representative highlights of the Sesquicentennial celebrations, as announced by Chairman Ralph G. Newman, are planned throughout the state.

Dec. 3, 1967—Opening Sesquicentennial receptions at museums and historical societies, including the Chicago Historical Society.

Jan. 6, 1968—Ninetieth birthday celebration for Carl Sandburg, poet and historian, in Galesburg, his birthplace.

Feb. 12—First day of issue of the Illinois Sesquicentennial stamp on Lincoln's birthay at Shawneetown, location of the oldest continuous post office in Illinois.

April 14—Easter Sunrise Worship services, including services at Bald Knob, Scales Mound, Apple River, Jacksonville at Lake Carlyle.

April 19-21—State-wide observances of Sesquicentennial Sabbath by all major faiths.

May 30—One-hundredth anniversary of Memorial Day, observances at Carbondale with Arthur Godfrey as speaker; at McHenry, Kankakee, Shelbyville, St. Francisville and many other places in Illinois.

July 4—Independence Day celebration at Fort Kaskaskia.

July 23, 25, 27, 28, 30, Aug. 1, 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 13, 15—Southern Illinois University Players present prize-winning Lincoln Play at New Salem State Park.

Aug. 26—Constitution Day—Dedication of Old Capitol, Springfield, on the anniversary of the date of the Constitutional Convention.

Oct. 5—Statewide Inaugural Balls commemorating the inauguration of Shadrach Bond, Oct. 6, 1818, as first governor of Illinois.

Oct. 6—Shadrach Bond Memorial service at Chester.

Dec. 3—Statehood Day, Springfield, marking 150th anniversary of Illinois' formal admission into the Union.

Sesquicentennial overtones will color such diverse activities as the National Championship Outboard Races on Lake Depue, the Illinois State Fair Aug. 9-18 at Springfield, the Norge Ski Club (Chicago) Ski Jumping Tournament at Fox River Grove Feb. 18, North American Coon Dog Trails at Robinson, the History-mobile Tours, the Pocket Billiard World Series and a statewide golf tournament with finals in Rockford.

The U. S. Air Force Band and the U. S. Marine Band will both appear in Illinois. The Chicago Symphony Orchestra will tour the state. The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. is producing a special motion picture, "The Promise."

Some 20,000 campers are expected at the DuQuoin Fairgrounds for the National Campers and Hikers Association annual convention in early August.

Hall of Fame

There will be commemorative medals, medallions and auto license plates.

There will be a Gallery of Illinois Firsts and a Gallery of Who's Who in Illinois. One hundred and fifty famous sports figures will be named to a Sports Hall of Fame.

A special feature on Illinois is being written for Fortune Magazine. The National Geographic Magazine published in June a 52-page lead article entitled "Illinois—The City and the Plain." Slanted toward the state's 150th anniversary, it was illustrated with full-color photographs.

Many special radio and television shows will be produced. These will include an hour-long, coast-to-coast network show, "I Remember Illinois," featuring such distinguished sons and daughters of Illinois as Jack Benny, Bob Hope (who got his real start as a comedian in Illinois), Edgar Bergen, Don McNeil, Burr Tillstrom, Shelley Berman and Carol Lawrence, as well as many others distinguished in different fields.

Special exhibits will include the Governor's Exhibit of Illinois Art, a series of Historic Paintings by Robert Thom, Miniature Historic Rooms, many special shows at museums and historical societies and art shows throughout the state.

Musical Tributes

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen is making a special recording of readings reflecting Illinois and the dreams of its great men.

The state song, "Illinois," has been given a new Sesquicentennial arrangement, one stanza of which expresses the spirit of the '60s.

The song, in sheet music form, may be obtained from the Illinois Sesquicentennial offices at either 222 South College street, Springfield 62704 or 1936 North Clark street, Chicago 60614.

Wgn Radio and Television, Chicago, is making it possible for the commission to authorize the writing of a new symphonic tribute to Illinois by Ulysses Kay, and a cantata by Norman Luboff and Win Stracke.

Earl Robinson, who wrote "Ballad for Americans," is writing a new "Ballad for Illinois."

Three literary awards and one journalism award each will carry prizes of $1500.

Literary entries must be previously unpublished works by Illinois authors on themes inspired by Illinois ideals.

Prizes will be awarded for the best novel or collection of short stories, for a non-fictional work, and for a book of poems or a long narrative poem.

Information on Sesqui

A competition for six new one-act plays about the state of Illinois has been announced by the commission's Arts Committee headed by Earle Ludgin. There will be six regional first prizes of $250 each and six regional second prizes of $100 each.

One of the unusual services offered by the Sesquicentennial Commission is INFO 68—a free telephone service.

Any telephone subscriber in Illinois outside of Springfield may call for free information about the Sesquicentennial by dialing 800/252-9468. Persons in Springfield wishing information should dial 525-9468.

Historical Works

A number of new historical works are being produced by the commission.

These include an anthology of Illinois Historical Society publications; a new multi-volume Sesquicentennial History of Illinois, based in part on the great Centennial History of Illinois, published 50 years ago; a general history of the state; an Illinois Fact Book; an Illinois Guide Book and Gazetteer; a book based on travels of noted men through Illinois and a Junior History.

The commission has five field representatives, each covering a section of the state and helping local communities plan celebrations and commemorative events.

Business Projects

More than 900 businesses have been contacted and more than 100 already have expressed a determination to cooperate in the Sesquicentennial observance.

Among firms undertaking special projects in association with the Sesquicentennial Commission are:

American Oil Co.; Automatic Electric Co.; Carson Pirie Scott & Co.; Caterpillar Tractor Co.; Central Illinois Public Service; The Chicago Tribune; Encyclopaedia Britannica, which is to celebrate its 200th year; Field Enterprises; First National Bank of Chicago, which underwrote the commemorative stamp competition.

General Telephone Co. of Illinois; Greyhound Corp.; Illinois Bell Telephone Co.; Illinois Central Railroad; John Deere Co.; John Hancock Insurance; Mechling Barge Line, Inc.; Moorman Manufacturing Co.; Motorola, Inc.; Mueller & Co.; Northern Illinois Gas Co.; United Air Lines; Wgn Radio an Television; Zenith Radio Corp.

Many Visitors Expected

"The commission believes Illinois will profit immeasurably by the Sesquicentennial, which will attract numerous visitors and herald the resources and enterprise that make this the leading export state of our nation," said Chairman Newman.

"Highlighted, too, will be the fact that the greatest of our exports is the inspiration of the life and influence of Lincoln found around the world.

"Let us prove that we deserve the appellation Illinois, which comes from the Indian Illiniwek, meaning superior men, and are worthy of our heritage. This celebration will then be the beginning of a still brighter future."

Venice Police Removing 'Junk' Cars From City

Venice police Monday afternoon began a promised drive to clean "junker" or abandoned autos out of the city, towing seven cars out of streets, vacant lots and alleys during the day .

The action followed recent complaints about a grôwing number of abandoned autos, particularly in vacant lots and alleys at the rear of homes from which the car owners have moved, abandoning the car.

The situation was the subject of lengthy discussion at a regular meeting of the Venice city council three weeks ago. At that time Mayor John E. Lee agreed that all such nuisances could be removed at city cost if the owner of the car could not be located.

In cases where police can trace down the owners of the old cars, they will be billed for the towing costs.

Owners of property who are plagued by old cars left in vacant lots or in alleys—or parked in the street, in some instances—should call police and notify them of the location of the cars, the mayor said.

Six of the cars hauled away Monday afternoon were towed to the Walton Wrecking Co., and one of them was towed to Hlava's garage.

Police reported they towed away a 1953 four-door auto from the rear yard of 121 Kerr street, and a 1965 two-door model from the alley of the same address. The 1953 car had been stripped.

A 1960 two-door car that had been parked six months was towed from 214 Kerr street. A 1958 four-door car that had been stripped also was hauled away from the 89 Weaver address.

Another auto, a 1940 two-door which police said they learned had been abandoned by an owner who moved away six months ago, was towed from the rear of 210 Broadway. The car towed to the garage, a 1960 two-door model, was removed from the Venice Homes, where police said it had been parked on the wrong side of the street for two weeks.

The city council has instructed City Attorney Harry E. Hartman to include in the city's revised city code an ordinance tightening controls over abandoned autos.

Willtrout Condition Continues to Improve

Owen Willtrout jr., 34, of Bellefontaine Neighbors, Mo., son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Willtrout sr., 2546 Sheridan avenue, continues to show improvement following surgery which he underwent June 27 to correct a back injury.

The former Granite Cityan has been at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, since he sustained severe injuries Dec. 19 when his tractor-trailer truck crashed over a viaduct, landed on a railroad track and was struck by a passenger train on Interstate 44-66 near Eureka, Mo.

Since the latest surgery, Willtrout has been transferred to the Rand-Johnson Orthopedic Hospital, a part of the Barnes Hospital complex.

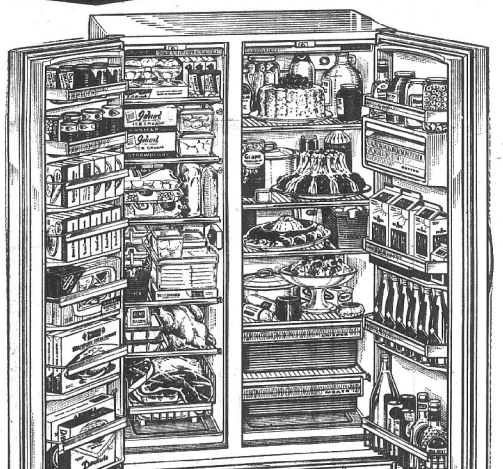

Mercer Promoted to Electric Firm Engineer

A Granite City resident, Frederick L. Mercer, has been promoted to engineer at the Union Electric Co. He lives at 2305 O'Hara avenue.

Mercer graduatdd in 1961 from Washington University with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering. He joined Union Electric later that year as a student engineer in the company's development program. Since 1962, Mercer has been assigned to the Transmission and Distribution Engineering Department, where he was advanced to assistant engineer and in 1965 to senior assistant engineer.

Neighborhood Youth Corps enrollees recruited in the Eagle Park area continue to add community improvement projects to their growing list of summer vacation tasks.

This week, NYC members began installation of six traffic control signs at various intersections in the unincorporated subdivision, located south-east of Madison.

Under the supervision of Miss Jaki Simpson of Riverside, Calif., and Harold Hamilton of Chicago, members of the VISTA organization, young people enrolled in the NYC program are spending the summer months helping to build the community park, painting houses and assisting neighbors in clearing debris from vacant property.

Work on the various improvement projects will continue through late August, Miss Simpson said today.

Lt. Fred Munton Retires From GC Police Department

Lt. Fred Munton, veteran Granite City police officer, has announced his retirement from the department effective Aug. 1. He now is on vacation and will not be returning to duty.

Police Chief Ronald Veizer said the vacancy in the department may be filled with the appointment of a new probationary patrolman by the city council before Aug. 1.

Lt. Munton started with the Granite City police department on May 16, 1949, with the annexation of the village of Nameoki, where he also had served as a police officer.

He was promoted to the rank of sergeant on Jan. 1, 1962, and to lieutenant on July 1, 1964, when he assumed command of the night shift. He has remained on that assignment.

Many Commendations

His records contain commendations. One was for his part in the apprehension of a man involved in a holdup in Madison in December 1960. Another was for apprehending burglars inside Kozyak's market in December 1961.

In the same month, he was commended for his role in the capture of "store roof" burglars. Another came in February 1961 for the apprehension and breaking of an auto theft ring.

During his career, he has attended numerous in-service schools.

He plans to work on a part-time basis at the Fairmont golf course. His hobbies are golf and fishing.

Lt. Munton resides with his wife at 2805 East 25th street. His children are married.

The infant, who was born in Granite City, also is survived by a step-sister, Chana Lee Murray, three years old; a step-brother, Harvel Murray jr., two years old; and his grandmother, Mrs. June Curnell of Granite City.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning in a Granite City funeral home. Arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

6th Annual Kiwanis-Bow Line Boat Races Set for Aug. 20

Preliminary plans for the sixth annual boat races to be staged Sunday, Aug. 20, on the Mississippi River near the Hartford canal were discussed Monday evening at the Granite City Kiwanis weekly dinner meeting in the Rose Bowl restaurant.

The boating spectacular, co-sponsored each year by the local men's service club and the Bow Line Boat club, annually attracts hundreds of viewers.

Proceeds derived from the event are used to support many chgritable enterprises and improvement projects of the two clubs.

Donald Russell, Kiwanis second vice-president, was in charge of Monday's business session.

Last August, a total of $800 in prize money and many gold and silver trophies were shared by more than 150 speed boat drivers, including a number of national champions who participated in the late summer classic.

A hay fever sufferer should be examined by his doctor and follow the doctor's advice thereafter. He should avoid the common mistake of trying all new patent medicines that are advertised each year.

Preaching and practice are twins — the trouble is they so often get separated.

It May Take Only Two to Tango But Three to Water Ski in Illinois

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

It takes more than two to go water skiing — legally — in Illinois.

In addition to the person on the skis and the operator of the motorboat, there must be at least one other competent person in the boat who will be free to keep an eye on the skier.

If there is only one person in the boat, both that person and the person skiing are guilty of a misdemeanor and may be fined not less than $25 nor more than $100.

The law also sets the standards for the safe operation "of the motorboat and its tow, and the hours during which the sport may be pursued.

So as not to endanger the life, limb or property of any person, the boat that is pulling water skis, an aquaplane or similar device must be operated in a careful and prudent manner at a safe distance from other persons and property.

Such water skiing or aquaplaning activities may be conducted only from one-half hour after sunrise to one-half hour before sunset unless part of a water skiing tournament, exhibition or trial for which adequate lighting is available.

The speed of the boat also has its legal limit. Its speed must permit the boat to be stopped within the "assured clear distance ahead."

Neither the powerboat nor the tow rope may be manipulated in such a way as to cause the skier to strike any person or object except jumps, buoys or similar objects normally used in competition or recreation skiing.

In case of a boating or skiing accident causing death, personal injury, or property damage of more than $100, the operator of the boat must make a written report to the Illinois Department of Conservation, or to the nearest U. S. Coast Guard Officer In Charge, or Marine Inspector, depending upon whether the waterway is under state or federal jurisdiction.

No person may operate a powerboat, or ride on water skis, aquaplane or similar device who is intoxicated or under the influence of any narcotic drug, barbiturate or marijuana. Violators of this law also may be fined not less than $25 nor more than $100.

State Government Revision Urged

(Committee for Economic Development)

A program calling for a "sweeping renovation" of state governments was recommended this week by the Research and Policy Committee of the Committee for Economic Development (CED).

In a Statement on national policy entitled "Modernizing State Government," the CED group gives top priority to state constitutional revision.

The purpose of such revision, according to the report, would be "to grant legislatures broad power in dealing with the issues of changing times, to strengthen executive capability by providing modern tools of management, to improve the administration of justice, and to establish appropriate relationships between state and local levels of government."

In a foreword to the statement, Emilio G. Collado, chairman of CED's Research and Policy Committee, said that the "recommends major changes, both to improve the quality of state operations, as such, and to encourage action by the states in correcting weaknesses in their systems of local government.

Modern Units Essential

"Modern state and local governments are essential to the success of the federal system in meeting urgent issues of increasing complexity."

The statement was made public by Marion B. Folsom, chairman of CED's Committee for Improvement of Management in Government. This group, which is supported by private foundations, was established in 1963 by the trustees of CED to study and formulate proposals for improving the management of federal, state and local government affairs.

CED is a non-profit research and educational organization of 200 business executives and educators who study major national and international economic problems to promote high employment with stable economic growth.

States for the most part have failed to come to grips with the economic and social issues within their province, and in coping with the "chaotic fragmentation" of local governments in most parts of the country, the report says.

"While state constitutions often impose limitations, there is a wide area within which state legislatures can move—but have not—to correct deficiencies that plague the nation's 80,000 local units."

Causes of Difficulty

The report cites four major reasons for inaction by the states:

1. Boundaries set long ago limit state size and jurisdiction, so that rational solutions for some major problems are beyond the reach of any one state.

2. Deficiencies in the organization and management of state government are self-imposed deterrents to effective action. Despite the need for modernizing state governments, only seven states have adopted new constitutions since 1945. Two of these are Alaska and Hawaii.

3. Some states lack the resources, and many the determination, to raise enough revenues. This leads to increasing reliance on the national government for financial support.

4. Many states lack the political organization necessary for building leadership and for sponsoring qualified candidates for public office. In some states this extends to the absence of a meaningful two-party system.

To overcome these weaknesses, "Modernizing State Government" makes the following recommendations:

1. "State constitutional revision should have highest priority in restructuring state governments to meet modern needs." Changes in state constitutions should stress "repealing limitations that prevent constructive legislative and executive action."

Clarification of Roles

They should also put emphasis "on clarifying the roles and relationships of the three branches of government, on permitting thorough modernization of local government in both rural and urban areas," and on eliminating from constitutions "matters more appropriate for legislative and executive action."

2. "No state legislature should have more than 100 members in total; smaller states would be better served by still fewer members. In all states, sessions should be annual, without time limitations for adjournment. Committees should be few in number, organized along broad functional lines, and supplied with strong staff support.

"Public hearings should be held on all major legislation. Legislators should serve four-year terms and receive salaries commensurate with their responsibilities and equal to at least half that of the governor." In no case should it be less than $15,000, the report says.

3. "Governors should become chief executives in fact as well as name. Except for a jointly-elected lieutenant-governor, the governor should be the state's only elected executive official. He should have a four-year term and freedom to seek re-election without restriction as to number of terms."

Long-Range Planning

The report goes on to say that the governor should have authority and responsibility for developing long-range plans, for program supervision, and for budget and personnel management, with adequate staff and resources suited to these functions.

"The governor's salary should be at least that of a member of Congress (now $30,000 annually); chief executives of larger states should receive substantially more.

4. "All judicial functions now performed by local courts should be brought into a single statewide system." Judges should be appointed, rather than elected, and have long tenure. "Each legislature should have authority to create new courts and abolish existing ones as the need arises, and to provide for the unified administration of the entire system.

Need Two Strong Parties

5. "Two-party competition should be deliberately fostered in every state. Party organization and nominating procedures should receive intensive scrutiny to assure their responsiveness and representative character, and to encourage active citizen participation."

In addition, the report suggests that consideration be given to setting state and local election dates in years when there are no federal—or at least no presidential—contests.

6. "Interstate cooperation in solving mutual problems should be exploited actively through interstate compacts," the study recommends. "Positive encouragement should be given to counties and other local units seeking collaboration with their counterparts both within the state and beyond its boundaries."

Furthermore, the report urges wider adoption of uniform state laws and active experimentation with new formulas for federal-multistate cooperation. All these measures can be taken without constitutional revision, the report notes.

Advocate Defeated But Defoliation Underway

Biggest factor in the 1964 presidential defeat of Sen. Goldwater was fear—as Pres. Johnson emphasized by words and hand gestures in his campaign talks—of his "thumb on the nuclear button." Symbol of the GOP candidate's supposed rashness was his support of "defoliation" of the Vietnam jungle and crops that hide and feed the Viet Cong.

It is interesting to note that much of the war escalation Goldwater advocated has since taken place, and that this week the Pentagon ordered $57 million worth of chemicals to help defoliate Vietnam. All of which seems to say that the course of events apparently is not substantially altered by campaign oratory, by who said what, or even by who is elected.

Equally unaltered is the Republican conservative wing's penchant for backing a candidate with excessive atomic age candor. Gov. Reagan, the current aspirant, might maintain a calm hand on the nation's tiller once elected but may never get the chance, due to the political hay Democrats undoubtedly will try to make out of his frank remarks that the Viet Cong should not be allowed to go to sleep at night confident that there will be no nuclear attack.

'When First We Practice to Deceive . . .'

(The McDuffie Progress, Thomson, Ga.)

A Florida legislator, obviously carried away with "truth in packaging," introduced a bill in the state legislature to prevent women from wearing hair dye, wigs, wiglets, false eyelashes, contact lenses, hip-pads, girdles or makeup.

The language of the bill included items tending to "alter the appearance of any package to such an extent as to deceive one as to the actual contents thereof."

He withdrew the amendment before adjournment. Must have been a married man.

High Pasition for Former Resident

Selection of Miodrag Muntyan as president-elect of the American Association of University Professors adds to the long list of high national honors accorded past and present Quad-Cityans.

Now a New York resident, the former Granite Cityan seems qualified for the post, having edited "Scholarly Books in America" for AAUP and served as vice-president of the association. His election further widens the diversity of influential posts held by people schooled and raised in this community.

'Failing Newspaper' Bill Would Unfairly Reduce Competition

As the National Newspaper Association says, "any legislation which would condone predatory pricing and other unfair competitive practices" should be defeated. Such a proposal is Senate Bill 1312, currently the subject of hearings in Washington.

Called the "failing newspaper bill," it would exempt from all anti-trust laws newspapers operated under joint operating agreements, and would provide for mergers and acquisition of "failing" newspapers by their successful competitors.

While a case could be made for some reduction in federal business restraints, Bill 1312 would legalize below-cost ad sales to drive out competition, financed by owners from their profits in other cities. Forced combination and "tie-in" ad selling by those operating big papers and nearby satellites also would be permitted.

It doesn't take much imagination to visualize what might happen in suburban areas chosen as targets by metropolitan dailies. In such a no-limit, no-holds-barred game, the publisher with the biggest bankroll could force even more newspaper failures than in the past. This could eventually leave many communities with no hometown newspaper; their competition group regional publications then would be free to halt intentional red-ink operations and charge whatever they liked.

The "failing newspaper bill," suggested as a way to help newspapers offset rising costs, instead would only help them become failing newspapers.

Many State Taxes Revised, Balanced Budget May Be Possible in 1967-69

Last retail purchasers—and who isn't one?—conclude that they were the only group affected by this year's Illinois tax legislation, a review of the bills awaiting signing or veto shows many other changes besides the rise from a four-cent to a five-cent sales tax, which is likely to provide an extra $327 million.

The General Assembly also:

Doubled the corporate franchise tax, from 1/20th to 1/10th of 1% on the present base, establishing a $100 minimum and $1 million maximum. That may produce $14 million.

Closed loopholes in the service occupation tax, described as a "limited broadening." The present tax on cost of products used "incident to services rendered" is figured on the cost of raw materials; the new plan is based on total gross receipts from the price paid by consumers on finished products. It also changes the treatment of such categories as machine tools, graphic arts, repairs and pharmaceuticals. Added revenue is estimated at $170 million.

Increased the cigaret tax by two cents a pack ($56 million).

Made various changes in the inheritance tax ($37 million).

And boosted the utilities tax levied against public utilities, message and natural gas firms by 1%, to be passed on to customers ($47 million).

In addition, accumulated earned interest of $25 million was transferred from university and public welfare building bond funds.

Grand total of the tax changes is expected to provide $676 million in new state income. With another $6 million in greater federal funds for public aid, the state is expected to come close to balancing its receipts and outgo in the 1967-69 biennium.

Budget requests rose $685 million, $70 million was voted for unbudgeted items and $20 million was listed to rebuild McCormick Place in Chicago, but legislators slashed $92 million from various spending proposals.

Publishing Broadens University, Helps Attract Outstanding Scholars

(Eighth of a series on the educational philosophy of Southern Illinois University President Delyte Morris, interviewed by Paul M. Angle, a noted historian.)

Angle: What do you consider to be the function of a university press?

Morris: You mean why a university press, I take it.

Angle: Why a university press? I guess that's what I do mean.

Morris: It seems to me that the university press—speaking in the abstract now—fits between two other publishing media, the commercial press and the press of the learned societies.

I use the term "press" loosely here. The learned societies produce journals and monographs largely.

The learned society has in mind a rather limited group for which it publishes—its membership and libraries. It tries to keep enough copies for future membership.

Profit Aspect

The commercial press has to focus its attention on profitmaking, or at least break-even publishing, and unless you have a philanthropist in charge, you will cease to print.

Angle: That's right. And the author won't eat very well.

Morris: That's right. No matter how philanthropic the commercial press may be, it can devote only a limited amount of its resources to unprofitable items which it feels need to be published.

In between the learned society and the commercial press falls the university press.

We like to think of our press as one which publishes only high quality material, and in the main we try to print books which would not be printed by the commercial press, but which will add materially to the sum of available materials for persons in the intellectual society.

In the main I don't see a competitiveness between the educational press and the commercial press. Rather, they supplement each other, and I think a good press adds something significant to a university.

It helps attract outstanding scholars. It broadens the relationship of the university by publishing works of scholars from other universities and other countries.

It is properly a part of the university's total effort to disseminate knowledge. It's a costly thing to get going because you have a large inventory by reason of modest sales.

Angle: This has been very interesting development to me.

The first university press in Illinois was that of the University of Chicago. It may even have been the first in the country. If it wasn't, it was one of the first two or three.

The University of Chicago Press was the only press in the state until a relatively few years ago. I don't know how long ago your press was founded, but I don't think it was more than about 12 or 15 years.

Morris: No, it wasn't.

Angle: And I think the same statement may be made of the University of Illinois, which has a very active press.

SIU Press Praised

Incidentally, I would like to compliment you upon yours. I think you've done a very fine job with the Southern Illinois University Press.

Morris: We're trying to hold very rigidly to high quality. We're not encouraging our press to publish bread and butter books.

Angle: Yes. I think you're doing fine. Northwestern now has its press, not as active as yours or the University of Illinois or Chicago's, but nevertheless very creditable.

And I think the other state universities are starting presses, so evidently this business of publication seems to have become a generally recognized function of the university today. Perhaps it, too, may be in the same general class as education beyond the classroom.

Morris: Yes, and really with a very limited clientele—that is, the scholarly segment of the population.

Angle: I don't think it is unusual for a university press book to have a sale of 8000 or 10,000 copies.

Morris: No.

Angle: Figure, as the trade publishers do, at least four readers for every book, and it's not a negligible portion of the intellectual population.

Well, Mr. Morris, you have indicated that the higher educational system in the state of Illinois leaves quite a bit to be desired. Is that a fair inference?

Morris: Yes. But I'm going to put it positively and say that in Illinois we have a very challenging and large job ahead of us. We've gone a long way toward meeting that challenge.

The pattern that has been set up for the development of the junior colleges is proving to be a sound one. If it doesn't achieve its objective of total coverage in the state the ground rules can be changed enough to achieve such coverage.

Technical Education

I'm a little worried about the adequacy of coverage in the field of technical education in the junior colleges. There are two ways to do it. One is through the junior colleges as comprehensive schools and the other way is to set up special technical colleges.

We've had quite a little experience in this at our university. We have a vocational-technical institute which has, I think, about 1450 students now.

It's operated as a separate unit. It's ten miles away from the campus at Carbondale, but the people who operate it feel that its presence within the framework of the university is quite helpful.

By moving it away, physically, it has become acceptable to the academic element of the university, which was very concerned about it as long as it was on the same campus.

Some feel that the presence of a vocational-technical institute within the university gives a kind of relationship with their faculties which makes it easier to understand their students and makes for a richer experience.

Vocational students can take some courses with the regular student body. And a number of courses required on the program for technical training are applicable for credit toward the undergraduate degree.

I think that it's doubtful whether all vocational-technical training can be handled in comprehensive junior colleges. Vocational-technical education is more costly, and since college preparatory work is more prestigious, vocational-technical training may not get sufficient emphasis in the junior colleges.

I hope it doesn't happen; If it does I think there will have to be additional and separate vocational-technical colleges.

But, one way or another, either with comprehensive junior colleges or, if that doesn't work, with vocational-technical schools, I believe we are moving the way we should go.

Need Full Mixture

My only concerns are the ones I expressed to you: the possible lowering of prestige of the junior colleges, which can be hurtful to the self-esteem of those who attend them, and the tendency to limit enrollment in the universities so that we do not get a full mixture.

The state board is now looking at the need for additional four-year institutions in this state, an I think they will set a pattern for developing some. We're beginning to think about cutting back or having some kind of limitation on enrollment in our state universities.

There is a direct relationship between how large existing institutions grow and how many new ones we need.

I have always felt that we could do better to agree upon some figure which could be readjusted if need be as time goes on, and say this is as large as we'll grow, and after this let's build another institution.

One of our interests in moving into this area was to keep Carbondale from getting too much larger.

Tax Tips From Revenue Service

(Internal Revenue Service)

Q—I got married last year. Do I need another Social Security number since my name changed?

A—No, continue to use the Social Security number you already have. However, you should notify the Social Security Administration of the change in your name so they can bring their records up to date.

Don't forget to show your Social Security number accurately on any tax return you file. Failure to show social security numbers delays refunds for many persons each year.

Q—My withholding was enough to cover my 1966 income tax. Do I still have to file a return?

A—Whether you owe any taxes is not the determining factor in deciding if you have to file a return. If your income was $600 or more, or $1200 if you are 65 or older, you must file. If you have self-employment income of $400 or more you must file a return and pay self-employment tax.

Q—Do I get any deduction for Social Security taxes paid for a cleaning woman?

A—No, these taxes are not deductible unless they qualify as a business expense.

Keep Past Records

Q—I just got my refund. Can I throw last year's tax records away?

A—No. Records should be kept as long as needed for tax purposes. This generally means three years from the time the return was due. Some, like records on the purchase of a home, should be kept much longer. They would be needed to establish your cost basis.

Q—My mother is in a rest home. Can we still claim her as a dependent since we pay her bills?

A—As long as she otherwise qualifies as your dependent and you continue to provide more than half her support, you are entitled to claim her as a dependent.

Q—My son earned enough last summer to require him to file a return. He's a full-time college student but we still support him. Can we claim an exemption for him on our return while he takes his own exemption on his return?

A—The situation you describe is one of two exceptions to the law that says an exemption cannot be claimed for a person with gross income of $600 or more for the year.

As long as a child of yours is a full-time student or under 19 and otherwise qualifies as your dependent, he may claim an exemption for himself on his return and you may claim his exemption also on your return.

Q—If I pay someone to prepare my return, isn't he responsible for its accuracy?

A—No, the taxpayer is legally responsible for the accuracy of the return. For this reason, make sure you get dependable tax help.

Avoid anybody who offers to split the refund with you, asks you to sign a blank return or prepares it in pencil, or who suggests that a refund be sent to his address.

Pooling of Tips

Q—We pool our tips at the place where I work and split them up at the end of the day. Is my share of the split-up what I should report as tip income?

A—Yes, the amount you actually received from the pool should be reported as tip income for tax purposes. Note that if your tips are $20 a month or more they should also be reported to your employer on Form 4070, "Employees Report on Tips."

Q—Where do I report profits from stock sales?

A—Use Schedule D. Copies are available in many banks, post offices and offices of the IRS.

Q—How can I tell whether a person qualifies as a dependent?

A—There are five tests that have to be met. These are gross income, support, married dependents, citizenship or residence and relationship. Each is described in the 1040 and 1040A instruction booklets.

Q—Is compensation for injuries received in an accident considered taxable?

A—No, you do not have to report as taxable income any payments received as compensation for damages for personal injuries or sickness.

Telephone Bill Tax

Q—Is the federal tax I paid on my phone bill deductible?

A—No, this is an excise tax and not deductible.

Q—We bought a home last year. Can we deduct any of the assessments or service charges we have to pay?

A—Local assessments that improve the value of your property, sidewalks and sewers, for example, are not deductible. Water bills and other service charges are not deductible, either.

You may deduct the interest paid on your mortgage and your real estate taxes.

Q—Is a veteran's disability pension taxable?

A—No. Benefits paid by the Veterans Administration are not taxable and do not have to be reported.

Several passengers on board a Yellow Line Allen car, bound for Edwardsville, were slightly injured Wednesday night about nine o'clock when a southbound McKinley interurban car crashed into their car as it was making the junction crossing.

According to passengers, the Allen car was crossing the McKinley track. When they started to cross, the McKinley car was standing still at the station. As the center of the Allen car moved across the McKinley track, the McKinley limited started up and crashed into the "Yellow Hammer."

The Allen car was damaged considerably and the passengers were injured and cut by flying glass. One passenger riding in the front part of the McKinley car was injured. None of the passengers on either car was seriously injured.

MANY HELPED CONDUCT FESTIVAL IN MADISON

To the Editor:

As commander of Madison Amvets Post 204, I wish to thank all the people who were not members of our organization who helped us make the July Fourth affair such a success.

Many hours are put into this by members of organizations, some of whom even take off work or take their vacation time so that our people can enjoy the celebration.

We were aided by city officials, street department employees, city police, auxiliary police and William Clinton and his wonderful Khoury League teams, which everyone enjoyed tremendously.

Especially do we thank an organization that each year goes unheralded, Chief Edward Miller and his Madison fire department, who have the task of seeing that the fireworks are displayed properly.

Faster Processing Of Checks to GI's Attending College

Checks for more than 12,000 Illinois veterans who will attend college next fall under the new GI Bill for Vietnam veterans will arrive about 10 days earlier each month because of improved processing, John B. Naser, manager of the VA's regional office in Chicago, said today.

Under the previous system, trainees had to report to the Veterans Administration each month on their enrollment status, changes in their studies and number of class hours attended.

A card for this purpose was enclosed with each check, with instructions for the veteran to return it to the appropriate VA office by the end of the month. Processing under this plan delayed checks until at least the 20th of the month.

Now, checks will normally arrive by the 10th of the month, Naser said. The speed-up results from dropping the requirement for monthly certification.

From now on, a veteran attending a regular course at an approved college or university certifies his attendance at the beginning of the year. His checks will continue as long as he continues regular attendance or until his eligibility expires.

VA will still require attendance certifications, Naser explained, but they will be handled independently of the checks. Special forms will be mailed to each veteran in college before the end of the enrollment period.

Monthly certifications will still be required from veterans in school below the college level.

Lutherans to Observe 450th Reformation Year

A committee of pastors and laymen from Concordia, Hope, Peace and St. John's Lutherans Churches is planning a 450th Reformation anniversary observance to take place in the fall.

Among events will be a film festival, a truck float and study-fellowship groups, with a joint banquet to climax the observance.

The film festival will feature four movies to be shown alternately at the four churches. The titles are "A Time for Burning," "Parable," "Martin Luther" and "The Detached Americans." The public will be invited to view the films and participate in an open house at each showing, to be held in October.

The float will depict the anniversary observance theme, "In Christ-Life—New Life," through the use of pictures, displays and literature, also to be situated in the city during October.

The pastors will lead study groups to re-examine the Augsburg Confession, which is the chief confession of faith in the Lutheran Church.

The committee is seeking a guest speaker for the joint celebration banquet to be held Oct. 29. A calendar letter will be sent to all clergymen in the area, inviting them and their members to the various events.

Good 'Seeing Habits' Needed While Driving on Vacation

"Before taking that well deserved vacation, it's a good idea to make sure your vision is up to par," Raymond Christman, president of the Quad-Cities Safety Council, advised today.

"If you wear glasses, you should make sure they have been checked to be certain they still fit your eyes. When you are sure you have adequate vision for the safe operation of a motor vehicle, the next step is to develop good seeing habits in traffic.

"We have all had the experience of looking at something and not really seeing it.

"Remember," Christman said, "that 'blank stare' will get you in trouble while driving."

He gave the following suggestions for developing correct seeing habits while driving:

Aim High in Steering

Aim high with quick frequent glances well ahead at the center of your driving lane. This will take care of other seeing problems.

Get the Big Picture

Most objects are detected by our fringe vision. The cars ahead should be viewed only as a small part of the big road scene. By looking from side to side, we can develop the big picture habit.

Stay far enough behind other cars to be able to watch them with your fringe, wide-angle vision. Watch all objects—moving or apt to move—for a block ahead in city driving and a half mile on rural roads.

Keep Your Eyes Moving

Unless you have the big picture viewing habit, you do a lot of fixed staring. While driving, seeing should be done in quick flashes. When your eyes stay longer than two seconds on any part of the traffic picture, they take on a blank stare. To drive defensively, you must build a strong habit of shifting your eyes every two seconds. Keep glancing nearby, far ahead, to the sides and in the rear view mirror. This habit is restful to your eyes and it forces you to adjust your speed to weather, traffic and road conditions.

On long trips you should make occasional ten-minute stops to rest your eyes and relieve tension. As you drive you should shift your position in the seat, chew gum, turn on your car radio, talk to someone and above all keep your eyes moving and watch the big picture. Proper use of your eyes can keep you out of trouble on any trip—short or long.

Community Preparing to Honor GC Army Depot On Its 25th Anniversary Aug. 1

Activities planned in connection with the Granite City Army Depot's 25th anniversary continue to increase.

New developments announced this week indicate events surrounding the Tuesday, Aug. 1 celebration week may make it one of the most elaborate such affairs ever held in the Quad-Cities.

In addition to previously reported plans, which include a gathering here of dignitaries from Washington, D. C., and all sections of Illinois and Missouri, an open house and a golf tournament on the Depot grounds and a full-dress parade through the Quad-City area, Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, Depot commanding officer, today announced that arrangements have been completed with the appropriate military command for a helicopter flyover salute as part of the anniversary proceedings.

The Depot commander reported negotiations also are underway with Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., authorities to furnish a parachute jump team demonstration, if a survey of Depot property determines that the area is feasible for a precision drop of the type required.

Decorated Floats

Local municipal officials have voted their whole-hearted support of observance activities and, in some instances, plan to enter decorated floats in the Aug. 1 anniversary parade.

Additionally, the Tri-Cities Chamber's Military Affairs Committee, announced this week the third annual "Enlisted Men's Recognition Dinner," sponsored by the C. of C., Monday, July 31, at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

Blankenship said letters are in the mail to Chamber members inviting their support for the dinner through sponsorship of soldiers as their guests.

Enlisted personnel from the Army Depot who will be honored July 31 are being selected by a Military Board of Review for their outstanding performances.

Highlighting the evening will be recognition of the enlisted man whose service and performance at the local military installation are judged to have been the most noteworthy.

Principal speaker at the 6:30 p.m. dinner will be Dr. Robert MacVicar, vice-president in charge of academic affairs, Southern Illinois University.

Queen to Be Crowned

Another segment of the anniversary celebration will be crowning of the 1967-68 Depot Queen. Candidates nominated from each of the installation's eight directorates, whose names are announced this week, include:

Patricia Adcock, administration; Sandra A. Carr, maintenance; Marilyn Gonterman, services; Sharon Koch, quality; Linda L. Mullen, commanding officer and personal staff; Linda Rash, supply and transportation; Regina Wallace, comptroller; and Marilyn Elizabeth Wolfe, data systems.

Many off-Depot organizations have indicated their intention to enter floats in the fast-growing anniversary parade, which will include marching units and military bands—representing various services.

The parade will originate at Second street, Venice, at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 1, proceeding through Madison and Granite City to the Depot parade grounds.

GCAD authorities report that trophies will be awarded to the most outstanding floats entered by off-Depot and Depot groups.

Escorted Tours

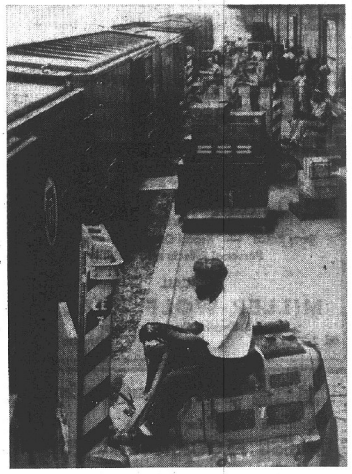

Escorted tours of the installation will take place throughout the day-long occasion, aboard a special Depot train. Young visitors may view movies, and souvenirs and refreshments will be provided to all those attending the celebration.

Preceding the official start of the anniversary, an open invitational golf tournament will get underway Monday, July 24, at the GCAD golf club, ending on Sunday, July 30.

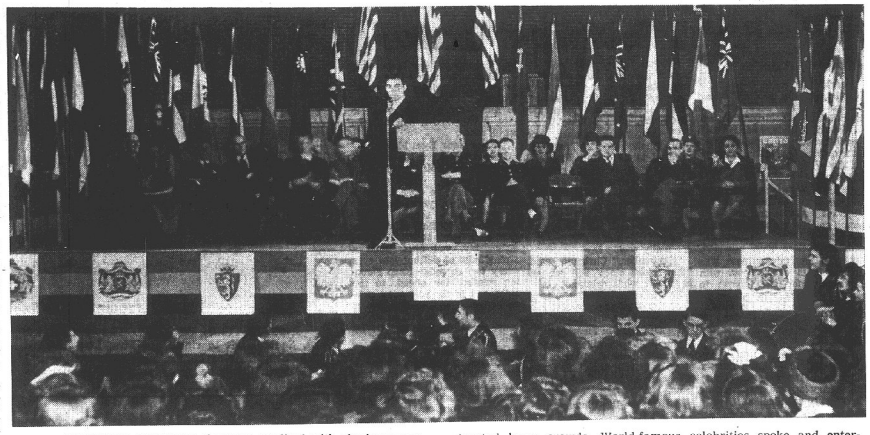

In addition to club members, Depot employees and military personnel, all area residents are being invited to participate in the tournament competition, Col. Hoskin announced.

Entry fee is $2, plus green fees for non-members, with registration forms available from the golf club headquarters. Tournament hopefuls must return their completed entry forms by Monday, July 17.

Trophies and prizes will be awarded for each class of competition. Medal play, 18 holes and a "hole-in-one" contest are on the contest schedule. Further information may be obtained from George Eubanks, Depot information officer, by calling GL 2-7300, Ext. 428.

PEACETIME STORAGE and distribution center for military supplies, the Granite City Army Depot is completing its first 25 years of operation Aug. 1. Train loading and unloading at the base is pictured. Many materials received here are repaired or rebuilt before being dispatched to new destinations.

WARTIME ARSENAL that was credited with playing a major role in achieving victory in world war II, the Granite City Depot also was the scene of numerous war bond purchase rallies that attracted large crowds. World-famous celebrities spoke and entertained. This Depot bond rally scene shows motion picture actor Anthony Quinn at the microphone.

Vandals Damage, Litter Venice School

Extensive damage to the Venice high school and grade school and destruction of a large quantity of school supplies was caused by vandals who apparently entered the building through the window of a shower room, Venice police reported Monday.

Principal damage was to doors and cabinets which were broken open. Supplies of all kinds were strewn throughout the rooms.

Paint and liquid soap were poured around the rooms. Powder paint also was thrown around. White enamel was added to the debris in the girls' shower room, where the vandals also broke up ten ballbats.

One of the acts of vandalism which caused no monetary loss but created a major task to replace the items was in the high school library. There the vandals took index cards for book filings and scattered them throughout the library and in a study room.

The office of School Supt. John Pier said loss in actual cost of supplies that had to be thrown away was $59, but that a large amount of work will have to be done to repair damage. The insulation was pulled from a refrigerator in the cafeteria and no estimate has yet been obtained on its repair.

Dumped Bath Powder

Police reported that in the girls' shower room recording tape also was stretched around the room and bath powder was sprinkled on the floor. An effort to break into the home economics room was unsuccessful.

In the grade school, the vandals broke open a coin-operated paper and pencil dispenser and took money from the coin box. They poured out four cans of powder paint and a gallon of liquid soap, and strung four rolls of tissue around the rooms. A wall thermostat also was broken.

They damaged a door and a bench in the boys' shower room and took approximately $15 from a coin-operated machine. Liquid soap was poured around the cafeteria, where they also pulled insulation from the refrigerator. Other items were strewn about the building.

Police said the vandals left through a door in the gymnasium.

Downtown Accident

While making a left turn onto a parking lot at 1300 Niedringhaus avenue, an auto driven by Mabel E. Hill, East St. Louis, collided with another car driven by Paul J. Edmonds, 2032 Amos avenue, who was backing out of the lot at 5 p.m. Monday.

Auto Hits Lighted Sign

A hit-and-run auto struck an illuminated sign and pole at David's DX service station, 14th street and Edwardsville road, after closing hours Monday, it was reported at 9 a.m. Tuesday. The sign is owned by the Federal Oil Co., Madison.

With a natural gas incinerator.

The paper you're holding right now will soon be trash. Matter of fact, nearly everything you and your business associates do creates mounds of broken boxes, crumpled papers and unsightly trash.

A natural gas incinerator will eliminate trash and garbage daily. Installed inside or out, it can eliminate expensive hauling and double handling.

Recent studies show that gas incinerators pay for themselves.

An incinerator does away with unsightly trash piles, problems of rodents and insects, and undesirable odors. Both employees and customers appreciate the difference. And daily incineration of trash not only saves space but sharply reduces fire hazards.

Retailers, restaurants and institutions are only a few of many places that can profit from modern gas incineration. There's a type of natural gas incineration for every enterprise —big or small.

For all the facts without obligation, phone our office.

IT'S A GOOD DAY FOR BUYING A HOME

Tight money? But you can still buy a home.

Even if you don't have a rich Aunt Maude. If you're putting off buying a home because it's not as easy as it used to be to get a mortgage, don't give up now. See your Realtor®. He's resourceful.

With his contacts and knowledge of the market, he may be able to suggest several ways to finance the home you want. For example, by arranging for you to assume an already existing mortgage. Or he may know a source that would be interested in lending you mortgage money.

A Realtor can be worth his weight in gold to you.

He is a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict Code of Ethics as a member of the local and state boards and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

So if you're not lucky enough to have a rich aunt, look for this seal. It identifies the person to see — a Realtor.

Conglomerate Co. Stocks Discussed

Richard Becker, an investment executive with Yates, Woods & Co. of St. Louis, discussed the effect of "conglomerates" on today's stock market when he addressed Granite City Rotarians at their weekly luncheon Tuesday in the YMCA.

Defining the term "conglomerate" as the practice of acquiring diversified holdings by large corporations in unrelated business fields, Becker pointed out that merging of divergent companies in this manner under a single corporation is becoming increasingly prevalent.

The investment counselor also described the aftermath of recent pressure placed on American Telephone & Telegraph and startled some of his listeners by disclosing that an estimated 80% of all AT&T shares are owned by women. The speaker was introduced by Homer Huber, program chairman.

In other action, club members heard that Alvin Barnes III, advertising manager of Tri-City Grocery Co., will succeed Boy Scout Executive Eugene Coe as editor-in-chief of "Skweek," the Granite City Rotarians' weekly newsletter.

Coe, who relinquishes the editorial job after seven years, will continue to publish the newsletter.

It was mentioned that over a 25-year period, only three individuals have acted as "Skweek" editors, including Paul A. Grigsby, former Granite City superintendent of schools, who served as editor for 15 years, and E. D. "Bud" Kincaid, who held the post for three years prior to Coe.

James Louis announced plans for an Aug. 8 trip to a Cardinal baseball game and asked that reservations be made for the event. Club members also were urged to write Gov. Otto Kerner expressing their opinion on the legislation to provide funds for reclamation and improvement of the Horseshoe Lake recreation area.

Salvation Army Capt. Harold F. Thomas, whose appointment as the Quad-Cities' commanding officer was announced this week, was introduced by A. C. Stoever, former chairman of the SA advisory board. Capt. Thomas later was inducted as a member of the club.

Approximately 50 attended.

Autos driven by Virginia A. Carroll, 2534 Spalding avenue, and Leroy J. Range, 2105 Terminal avenue, were involved in an accident at 12:10 p.m. Tuesday on the parking lot at the Bellemore Village shopping cente.

CHOUTEAU TOWNSHIP FARMER Gene Losch combines his 1967 wheat crop. This field was plagued by a weed crop; rains that delayed harvest allowed time for weed growth. Presence of weeds or clover increases the moisture content of wheat. Losch farms with his father, Charles C. Losch, and they plan to store their wheat and hope for an increase in price. Many Madison county farmers are storing their wheat this year.

WHEAT HARVEST. Terminal elevators such as Cargill elevator have been the scene of around-the-clock activity during the harvest. Terminal elevators purchase grain from country elevators. The grain moves by truck, rail and barge from terminal elevators into domestic and foreign markets.

Wheat Crop Tops Demand, Many Farmers Will Store It

By FRANK THOMAS
Executive Secretary,
Madison County Farm Bureau

The 1967 wheat harvest has posed more questions than it has answered. Country elevator managers as well as farmers are asking, why the softness in the wheat market?

Could the 30% increase in wheat acreage be the cause? Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman granted this increase to stimulate production for an expanding wheat market. Neither the demand nor the 30% increase was never realized.

The secretary and the administration have "taken it on the chin" for declining wheat prices.

To pacify wheat growers, cuts in 1968 wheat acreage allotments were announced. Some Washington observers say this is a political manuever and increased production of wheat will be asked for—after the pain of harvest prices has receded. Increased wheat production for a hungry world then would again be the cry.

The 1968 wheat crop will be planted in the fall of 1967 in this area.

Traveling through Madison county, an awareness of the oddities of this wheat marketing period is forthcoming.

24-Hour Activity Here

This writer cannot recall a year when Cargill's Granite City elevator remained open 24 hours a day. A constant stream of grain trucks loaded with wheat provided hours of activity at this, a terminal elevator.

At least one local elevator was taking its entire wheat receipts to milling companies. This operator in the past sold to terminal elevators. Recalling a time when milling companies were willing to take high-moisture wheat at harvest time takes some doing.

Acreage Allotments

Let's get down to the farmer and his position in this season's harvest. Farmers operate under a system of acreage allotments. The latest wheat program was adopted by Congress in 1963. The fanfare of this legislation stated that this legislation will provide increased income for farmers and lower bread costs for the consumer. Quite a bill!

This year drives home the realization that the legislation failed in one of its stated proposals. Oddly enough, the provisions of this legislation had been turned down the previous year in a referendum vote of wheat growers.

The present farm legislation seems to be partly responsible for the decline in wheat prices. There are rumors that wheat exports to foreign markets have lagged due to an in-government battle.

It seems the State Department and the Department of Agriculture find it difficult to agree on who should handle exports to needy countries.

U. S. Creating Uncertainty

The uncertainties of government actions has resulted in a minimum of speculator actions. The absence of these speculators results in a sluggish market at best.

It is difficult for this writer to assess priority to the various factors causing a low wheat price for growers.

The grower this year has had many problems with his harvest. Dry weather up to harvest time, and then rain and high humidity plagued him. In this area, 13.5% moisture wheat was the standard. Each percentage point or fraction thereof brought a 4% per bushel dock in price. Continental Grain was assessing a 6% per point dock.

Continental purchases grain from local elevators, and any decrease in price received by elevator operators is reflected in the price they can pay the grower.

There are many other factors determining the price received by the farmer. Foreign material found in a load of wheat results in a decrease in price and some types of foreign material can result in a refusal to purchase by the elevator.

This writer watched one load of wheat being graded July 6. The market price at the time was $1.35 per bushel, and moisture dockage brought the actual received price down to $1.25.

Farm Column

By Warren W. Bundy
Madison County Farm Adviser

Yield prospects are good for corn and soybeans in Madison county this year. Even with the late planting which resulted from a wet May, there still was a lot of corn "knee high by the fourth of July."

Most stands are good. Moisture is adequate. Insect, weed and disease problems have been no more than we usually encounter. Corn and soybeans are growing rapidly and each day you can see the difference in growth made. Farmers side-dressed a lot of corn with nitrogen last week.

Farmers deserve a good crop after last year's severely reduced yields from drouth and high temperature.

Wheat harvest progressed rapidly last week. Moisture in wheat varied around the 13% mark. Farmers had to watch the moisture content closely and combine wheat when the moisture was down. One farmer reported the moisture in his standing wheat went up three percent within a few hours time as a result of humidity change.

Sheep producers, by proper selection of breeding stock, feeding and management, have greatly improved the quality of lambs being marketed today.

A loin eye measuring 3.14 square inches and an estimated retail yield of 67.88 percent belonged to the Hampshire wether lamb named grand champion in the first Illinois Spring lamb carcass show held in Springfield.

Alive, this lamb weighed 106 pounds. Its chilled prime grade carcass weighed 56.4 pounds.

Exhibited by Marvin Anderson, Alvin, Ill., the lamb placed seventh in the heavyweight Hampshire class of the on-hoof competition. The on-hoof winner at the show, a heavyweight Hampshire wether owned by John Perardi, Farmington, Ill., placed fourth in the carcass judging.

A recently completed summary of 1966 production records for 96 Illinois flocks indicates some sheep owners are receiving nearly three times as much gross return per ewe as other flock owners.

Two of the 96 flocks had gross returns of more than $50 per ewe, and 20 flocks returned more than $40 per ewe.

On the other hand, 15 flocks had gross returns of less than $25 per ewe. Gross returns per ewe ranged from a low of $17.22 to a high of $50.90. Major factors causing the variation were percent lamb crop, lamb and wool prices received, lamb selling weights, and fleece weights.

Dr. Paul Mitchell, county veterinarian, reports some changes in Illinois livestock disease control laws have been approved by the General Assembly and signed by Gov. Kerner.

About the bovine brucellosis law, after July 1, 1967, calves must be vaccinated when not less than 90 nor more than 210 days of age to be designated as official vaccinates. In brucellosis infected herds, the state superintendent may designate suspects as reactors if deemed advisable in the interest of brucellosis eradication.

The swine brucellosis law was changed to require all breeding swine four months of age and over offered for lease, loan, trade, or sale must be accompanied by negative brucellosis test conducted within 60 days, or originate from a validated brucellosis-free herd. Previously, female swine were required to be tested only if sold. All swine brucellosis tests shall be reported to the state within seven days of completion, on forms provided by the department of agriculture.

The feeder swine act was amended to permit vaccination of swine with killed or inactivated vaccine more than 21 days and less than 6 months prior to importation.

Under the bovine tuberculosis law, cattle may be shipped into Illinois from an accredited tuberculosis-free state without prior test. The state department of agriculture is authorized to negotiate reciprocal agreement with other states for entry of cattle into Illinois without prior test for TB if such other state accepts Illinois cattle under the same condition.

Feeder cattle of all ages may be imported and placed under TB quarantine during feeding period. Previously cattle over 18 months of age had been required to be submitted to test for TB within 10 days of entry. The requirement for brucellosis test 10 days after entry on feeding cattle 18 months of age and over remains in effect.

If you want to see how Mason county farmers have doubled their corn yields, attend the Mason county Irrigation Tour July 18.

University of Illinois soil and water specialist Carroll Drablos says the tour starts at 12:30 on the Glenn Fanter farm near Havana. You will see four farms which use a variety of irrigation systems to raise corn, soybeans and green beans.

About 300 farmers throughout Illinois use irrigation, according to Drablos. Mason county farmers find irrigation profitable on their field crops because of the low water-holding capacity of their sandy soils. Farmers in other areas of Illinois use irrigation on specialized crops such as vegetables.

Drablos says irrigation has great potential in specialized cropping areas. An irrigation system will cost you about $150 per acre. Thus, according to Drablos, irrigation should boost your corn yields by 30 bushels per acre before it can be justified.

To reach the Fanter farm, drive seven miles east from Havana on Route 136. The farm is on the north side of the road and will be marked by signs.
